COOLIDGE FAVORS COMMISSION TO DIVIDE COST OF FLOOD CONTROL

Wants Cost Determined First, and Afterward How U. S. and States Shall Share the Expense.

HOOVER WILL NOT COMMIT HIMSELF

At Committee Hearing Refuses to Be Led Into Adverse Criticism of President's Plan.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—President Coolidge is not disposed to demand that a portion of the cost of Mississippi River flood control be assessed upon communities benefited, if Congress wants to place the entire charge upon the Federal Government.

While the President does not wish to set the precedent of having the Federal Government pay all the expenses of an improvement designed to benefit one section, he is willing, under the circumstances, to compromise as to the Mississippi problem.

It was established today that his objection now is most emphatic to a tendency he believes has been engendered in some quarters for determining first that Mississippi flood protection shall be paid for out of Federal funds, and thereafter what type and quantity of protection to be accorded. He believes that the type of flood control legislation and its cost should first be determined by a study of the needs, and that thereafter the question of dividing the expense should be taken up.

As the most feasible means of working out the differences, the President has suggested that a commission be set up to consider the economic conditions in flooded territory, the ability of those benefited to pay, and the amount of benefit likely to be experienced from flood control construction. In the light of the finding of such a commission the President considers a satisfactory adjustment of the burden of expenditure could be made.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, testifying today at a flood-control hearing of the Senate Committee on Commerce, declined to commit himself on the question whether he was the lower valley states should be required to pay 20 per cent of the cost of flood control as proposed in the administration plan now before Congress. Hoover refused to be led into any unfavorable comment on the administration plan, known as the Jadin plan, on the ground that it would be improper for him as an officer of the Government to criticize the work of departments not under his jurisdiction.

He suggested that the whole question of local contributions be left to a commission which should report to Congress in about a year. In the meantime, he said, the actual work of flood control could be pushed forward so that there would be no delay in its completion. In proposing a commission to deal with the economic and financial features of the control plan, he said that he was suggesting an idea which had been advanced by President Coolidge.

Regarding as an event of major importance because of his candidacy for the presidency, the appearance of Secretary Hoover before the committee aroused extraordinary interest. The committee room was jammed. Piquancy was lent to the hearing by the presence of Senator Willis of Ohio, a member of the committee, who is now engaged in a hot battle with Hoover for the Ohio delegates to the Republican national convention. Willis sat at the opposite end of the table from the witness.

Hawes Questions Hoover. The hearing quickly resolved itself into a duel of words between Hoover and Senator Hawes of Missouri. Hawes had come to the session prepared to shoot two main questions, whether or not Hoover agreed with the President that the local communities along the river should pay 20 per cent of the cost of control and whether or not there should be civilian engineers on the board in charge of the work.

Hawes began firing as soon as the Secretary had completed the reading of a prepared statement. Hawes said there were two plans before Congress—the Jadin plan

OUTER DISTRICTS HEALTHIEST IN CITY, SURVEY SHOWS

Death Rate for St. Louis 12.5 Per Cent Per 1000, Community Council Reports.

The healthiest districts of St. Louis are the outlying developments on the extreme north and south and northwest and southwest, figures compiled by the health division of the Community Council indicate. In these neighborhoods during 1927 the death rate was lowest and the birthrate highest.

The general death rate for St. Louis was 12.5 per 1000 inhabitants. The birth rate was 19.6. In the Southwest district the death rate was 5.7 and the birth rate 17.2. The Northwest had a death rate of 9.4 and a birth rate of 25.0.

The Health Division explains the figures with the statement that the inhabitants of these districts are largely younger people—employed in the new industrial plants located near them.

The Downtown district had the highest death rate—18.2 and the West End the lowest birth rate—11.2. In both of these districts the death rate exceeded the birth rate by one point.

Earnings of Municipally Owned Lines Large Enough to Meet Sinking Fund Payments.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 24.—The city-owned Detroit street railways in January showed a profit above all operating expenses, including a reserve for taxes of $223,819. This was sufficient for all regular payments to sinking funds, through which the city is paying for its transportation system out of carfare.

HOOVER-LINDBERGH TICKET SUGGESTED TO WOMEN BY GOV. FULLER

EVERETT, Mass., Feb. 24.—"I would like to place before you for consideration the ticket of Hoover and Lindbergh," Gov. Fuller told the State Federation of Women's Clubs today in an address in which he urged greater participation of women in politics.

"I should like to see a convention of the women of Massachusetts tell their delegates to the next presidential conventions, both Republican and Democratic, whom they would prefer to see nominated for the presidency. I would like to place before you for consideration the ticket of Hoover and Lindbergh."

BIRGER HANGING SENTENCE UPHELD; TO DIE APRIL 13

Gunman and Gang Leader of Southern Illinois Loses Fight in State Supreme Court.

WAS CONVICTED OF KILLING JOE ADAMS

Mayor of West City Assassinated by Two Youths, One of Whom Confessed the Crime.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 24.—Charlie Birger, gunman and gang leader of Southern Illinois, lost his last fight today, when the Illinois Supreme Court affirmed his conviction for murder and set Friday, April 13, as the date for his hanging.

Birger, with Art Newman and Ray Hyland, was convicted last July at Benton of the murder of Joe Adams, 300-pound gambler and Mayor of West City, near Benton.

The court held that insufficient showing was made of prejudice existing against Birger in Franklin County. This was proven, the court said, by the fact that Birger exhausted only eight of the 20 challenges allowed him by law in the selection of jurors.

Court's Comment on Case.

Birger's contention that he should have been given a separate trial was dismissed with this comment: "The record shows that attorneys for the respective defendants conferred together during the trial. The opening statements in behalf of Newman, Hyland and Birger were made after the prosecution had closed its case and in the presence of the jury. It is manifest that individual offenses were antagonistic. Persons jointly indicted usually are tried together. The motion for a separate trial in a criminal case is addressed to the Court's discretion and the Court's action in denying the motion is not subject to review unless it clearly appears that there was an abuse of discretion."

"The Court did not abuse its discretion in denying a separate trial," directed the majority.

As to Birger's guilt, the Court said:

"The evidence, both direct and circumstantial, amply shows that Birger directed the conspiracy to murder Joe Adams. He was the mastermind of the crime and he participated in the crime until it was consummated. No verdict other than one of guilty could properly have been returned by the jury."

"The judgment of the Circuit Court of Franklin County is affirmed. The clerk of this court is directed to enter an order fixing the period between sunrise and sunset on Friday, the thirteenth day of April, 1928, as the time when the original sentence of death shall be executed."

Adams was assassinated at the door of his home on Dec. 12, 1926, by two youths who pretended they had a letter from Carl Shelton, a friend of Adams, and shot the Mayor as he read the note.

The identity of the youths remained concealed until an investigation by a Post-Dispatch reporter and Frank County authorities finally elicited a confession from Harry Thomason, a reformatory inmate, that he and his brother, Zimo, had done the shooting at the behest of Birger.

One Slayer Burned to Death.

Elmo was burned to death in the destruction of Birger's fortified stronghold, "Shady Rest," in January, 1927, and he is partially out of the conviction that Birger gangsters had killed him that his brother Harry turned against his former chief.

At Birger's trial Harry Thomason was the State's chief witness. Art Newman, Birger's former lieutenant, who helped plan the murder, and Ray Hyland, who drove the car in which the slayers escaped, were tried with Birger. They were sentenced to life imprisonment. In a statement to the Post-Dispatch Newman had corroborated Thomason's story, but he did not take the witness stand.

Just before the Birger trial, Harry Thomason pleaded guilty of the Adams murder and was sentenced to life imprisonment. The only man implicated by him in the killing, Fred Isitt, at large, Connie Ritter, chief lieutenant of Birger, for whom there is a reward of $2000.

SENATORS FIND $1,600,000 DEAL OF FAKE OIL FIRM

Additional Contract Made by Continental Trading Co. Disclosed in Records of Canadian Bank.

TO CALL PROMINENT MEN OF COLORADO

Ex-Gov. Shoup Headed Western Oil Fields Corporation, Which Received Funds.

By BASIL MANLY. A Special Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A new source of revenue for the $3,050,000 Continental "slush fund," out of which former Secretary of the Interior Fall was paid $250,500 for the Teapot Dome lease, has just been discovered by the Senate Committee on Public Lands, in the form of a contract between the Continental Trading Co., Ltd., of Canada and the Western Oil Fields Corporation of Denver, Colo. Further disclosures are expected as a result of this discovery, involving men high in political and financial circles.

Members of the committee believe this contract, the exact terms of which are not yet fully known, may furnish a key that will aid materially in solving the mystery by which they have been baffled owing to the refusal of Col. Robert W. Stewart, Harry F. Sinclair, H. M. Blackmer and James E. O'Neill to testify.

This contract involves transactions, in the purchase of crude oil, amounting to $1,500,000 or $2,000,000. It is separate and distinct from the contract with the Humphreys Oil Co., which the committee has hitherto been investigating and is, therefore, believed to furnish entirely new leads to future investigation.

Subpoena to Subpoena Officers.

Subpoenas are expected to be issued at once for the officers of the Western Oil Fields Corporation, now a subsidiary of the Continental Oil Co., which, in turn, is alleged to be controlled by the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

O. H. Shoup of Denver, former Republican Governor of Colorado and president of the Western Oil Fields Corporation at the time this contract was made, is believed to have been executed, also is expected to be subpoenaed. Ex-Governor Shoup, a prominent Colorado oil man, was one of the organizers of the 34th West Refining Co., whose chairman, Harry M. Blackmer, is now in exile in Paris in defiance of the orders of the Federal Courts for him to return and testify in the oil conspiracy case.

Other officers of the Western Oil at the time this contract was effected were: Vice president, George T. Brady of Denver, who is said to be prominent in Democratic politics, and E. F. Bates, cashier of the Denver National Bank.

Received $1,654,596.

Discovery of the large scale transaction of the Continental Trading Co. with the Western Oil Corporation resulted from an analysis of the cash account of the Continental Trading Co. Bank of Canada. This analysis, which has been completed, discloses that between April 11, 1922, four days after the Teapot Dome lease was signed, and June 15, 1923, a total of at least $1,654,596.33 was paid to the Western Oil Fields Corporation.

On April 11, 1922, H. S. Osler, president of Continental Trading Co., wrote to the Dominion Bank notifying it that he was sending a check for $466,417.28 to the Western Oil Fields Corporation. On the same day he notified the Dominion Bank to purchase the Dominion Bank to buy $300,000 in Liberty bonds.

This corporation controlled important oil leases in the Mexico oil field, where the Humphreys Corporation was operating, and also in the Salt Creek field of Wyoming, which is adjacent to Teapot Dome. Both of these fields were of great importance to the interests which combined in the creation of the Continental "slush fund."

POLICE HESITATE TO SEIZE SUSPECT IN FIRE MURDER

Man Who Drenched Margaret Brown With Gasoline, Then Set Her Afire, Said to Be Prominent.

DETECTIVES WAIT TO COMPLETE CASE

Alleged Slayer, in Confession Letter, Declared That Woman Had Refused to Marry Him.

By the Associated Press. BERNARDVILLE, N. J., Feb. 24.—The man who killed Miss Margaret Brown by drenching her in gasoline and setting her afire is a middle-aged New Yorker so socially prominent that authorities hesitate to arrest him until every detail of the case is complete. Capt. Lamb of the State Police said today.

Dr. Anderson Lawton, who was present at the autopsy, today told of evidence that Miss Brown had been knocked unconscious before she was set afire. An anonymous confession mailed to police yesterday said her assailant had struck Miss Brown on the head.

Dr. Lawton said that a pivot tooth in Miss Brown's lower jaw had been broken and that a blood clot extended from the lower lip across the mouth. He believed the blow would have caused unconsciousness. He also said that the pupils of the victim's eyes were not dilated, indicating that she had been unconscious when set on fire.

County Prosecutor Bergen intimated that the entire confession letter had not been made public. Police were informed today that a man driving an automobile bearing stolen license plates had visited the scene of the crime last night and they were investigating the possibility that the slayer had returned there through morbid curiosity.

In the confession letter the writer returned $2500 in bonds and cash he had taken from his victim. A friend of Miss Brown said the murdered woman had been moving in Central Park, New York, a man named either "Hoff" or "Huff," and who called himself a doctor. He was known to the owner of an automobile similar to that seen near the scene of the murder. The letter said the writer had told Miss Brown he was a medical student.

HUNGARIAN EDITOR HELD AT HAVANA FOR DEPORTATION

Charged With Attempting to Blackmail Pan-American Delegates, Alleges Persecution.

By the Associated Press. HAVANA, Feb. 24.—Imre Savage Sulok, publisher of a Hungarian language newspaper here, was arrested yesterday by Interior Department detectives on charges of attempting to blackmail delegates to the Pan-American Congress, and of publication of articles unfavorable to Cuba. He was imprisoned on the gunboat Maximo Gomez to await deportation as an undesirable alien. Proof of the charges is unnecessary since deportation is an attribute of the executive. Twice before Sulok has been acquitted by the courts, once of smuggling aliens to the United States and another time of promoting a fraudulent bank.

He said he was the victim of persecution by alien smugglers who he had exposed in his newspaper.

FINANCIER SCHELLKOPF DIES

Wife Lost $500,000 in Jewelry in Robbery at Party.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—C. F. Schellkopf, 46 years old, retired Buffalo financier, whose wife several years ago lost more than $500,000 in jewelry in a robbery, died in a hospital here today. Three men were sent to prison for the robbery. Frank Barrett Carman, actor-artist-dancer and former traveling companion of the Schellkopfs, was arrested on charges of complicity, but Mrs. Schellkopf from the start declared her belief in the innocence of Carman, who was host at the party, and he was exonerated. Mrs. Schellkopf later got a divorce from the Buffalo financier and married Carman. They were divorced last year.

the combination. The robbers threatened to "blow off" his head. Treasurer Hentschel heard the commotion and feared for his life. He opened the safe for the robbers, but not until he had delayed for a minute or two. The robbers stuffed the currency into sugar sacks which they had brought along and two of which they left in the bank.

Robbers Run a Block to Cab. With a final warning to the employees not to follow them, the robbers left the bank by a rear door, and ran west a block to Evergreen and Easton avenues, where Charles Clay, a taxicab driver, was standing. Apparently they were joined on the way by one or two lookouts. For Clay reported four or five men jumped into his car and pressed pistols against his head.

"Drive, you —" one commanded. Clay drove the robbers south on Evergreen avenue until a Lincoln phaeton, with the front license plate missing, came north. Clay was told to slow up and turn west into Ella avenue. The Lincoln drove in behind, and the robbers transferred to it.

"Now, go on about your own damned business," was the robbers' order. The Lincoln sped west in Ella avenue. It is thought to have been stolen last night from the used car department of the W. H. Owen Co., 2215 Washington boulevard.

The robbers had shown a familiarity with the two-story bank building and the vault that contained the money. At 10:30 o'clock last night, Miss Dorothy O. Martin, a dentist with an office directly above the bank vault, left the building by the front way, locking the door behind her.

Entered by Office Window. But the lock on the window of her office had been broken for some time. The window opens on a rear stairway, which leads into the back yard. Circumstances indicated the robbers came up the stairway, pushed open the window and climbed through.

They left behind in the office a large brass footstool, a small saw, a pair of tinners' shears and a coil of fine wire. They tore a strip of linoleum from the floor. With the brace and bit and saw they cut a hole in the wood floor, 23x14 inches, and reached down to knock loose the plaster ceiling of two and a half feet between the ceiling and the bank vault, which the robbers dropped to await the arrival of bank employees.

The robbers were described as big men—about five feet 10 inches tall and weighing 200 pounds. Two wore caps, the other a hat. The leader had prominent cheek bones. He wore no overcoat.

Fourth Robbery in Four Years. It was the fourth robbery of the bank and its employees in four years, the total loot being about $100,000. The losses were insured. Wellston, an unincorporated community, has no police force. St. Louis police are helping to investigate today's robbery, although the bank is a block west of the city limits.

The Wellston Trust Co. was robbed of $51,000 by five holdup men Sept. 19, 1924. Two of its employees were held up near the bank and robbed of $4252. Sept. 7, 1924. Last June 18 four holdup men obtained $21,000. A woman employee fired at the robbers as they escaped. In the 1924 holdup the robbers escaped by a rear door as a Deputy Sheriff, who had been notified of the holdup, waited for them in front.

Holdup men also have been victims in recent years at two other Wellston banks, the First National Bank and State Bank, obtaining $35,000 in three holdups.

EXPLOSION AT SCHOOL DESCRIBED BY PUPILS

Two Girls Witnesses in Trial of Man Charged With Trying to Blow Up Sweetheart.

By the Associated Press.

OTTAWA, Ill., Feb. 24.—Two little girls today told a jury the story of the explosion that wrecked their school house last December and nearly killed their teacher, Miss Lola Bradford. Hiram Reed, the young man on trial, charged with putting the dynamite in the stove in an effort to rid himself of the teacher, his sweetheart, and her unborn child, glared at the children.

Grace Johnson 10 years old, her feet swinging from the witness chair, told of the morning when her teacher tried to light a fire in the stove. She was the only pupil in the room when the dynamite exploded.

"I saw Miss Bradford near the stove when I went in," she said. "Then I heard a loud noise and I don't remember what happened until I found myself out on the road."

"Teacher was screaming. There was blood all over her face and her dress. My leg was hurt by a piece of iron and there was glass down my neck. Pieces of iron were in the wall and planing."

Vera Bane, also 10, testified an explosion shook the ground and building. She heard her teacher scream and saw her come staggering into Miss Bradford told her to get her sister, Mrs. Howard Clegg, who lived nearby, the child said.

POISON PILL KILLED WOMAN, CORONER'S JURY DECIDES

Verdict Given in Death of One of Two Ailed, Ill. Victims of Capsules Sent By Mail.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Feb. 24.—Poison caused the death of Mrs. Curtis R. Lowry of Aledo, capsule victim, a Coroner's jury reported yesterday afternoon.

No recommendation to the State's Attorney was made but the verdict officially leaves the way open for a continuance of the investigation, which is being conducted by postal inspectors and State's Attorney James A. Allen.

The Lowry died Feb. 3 within 20 minutes after taking a capsule purported to be a remedy for a cold which was sent to her through the mail.

Analysis of the stomach of Mrs. A. Baker of Aledo, who died of the same cause after taking a capsule has not been completed by the Chicago Coroner. His report is expected Saturday. Ten other persons received similar capsules.

AGREES TO VOTE ON POWER BILL

Committee to Act on Boulder Canyon Dam Wednesday.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—An agreement to vote next Wednesday on the Swing-Johnson Boulder Canyon Dam bill and all pending amendments was reached today by the Senate Irrigation Committee.

The agreement was reached at an executive session during which the major provisions of the various plans for the gigantic power, reclamation and flood control project in the Colorado River were discussed. Senator Phipps (Rep.), Colorado, chairman of the committee, said no amendments were disposed of, but the committee was making "satisfactory progress."

SAYS HICKMAN AID KILLED MAN

Firearms Expert Testifies Bullet Fits Hunt's Weapon.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 24.—Testimony of a firearms expert pointed today to Welby Hunt as the actual slayer of C. Ivy Toms, druggist, whose death Hunt and William Edward Hickman are on trial for murder.

Edward Crossan, gun specialist, testified the bullet which ended Toms' life when the two youths attempted to hold up the druggist's store came from a .38-caliber revolver. Hunt has admitted carrying a revolver of that caliber while Hickman was armed with a .22. Crossan linked the fatal bullet with one of the empty .38 shells found at the spot where Hunt stood in the rear of the store.

Senate Votes Dallas Bank Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Investigation of the administration of the affairs of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas was voted today by the Senate in the adoption of a resolution offered by Senator Mayfield (Dem.), Texas.

"You are the only man who doesn't seem to have an opinion on the subject," observed Hawes.

Ever said that the Secretary of War had no better qualified to express an opinion than the witness. Hoover reiterated that Congress could go ahead with the construction work and leave the settlement of the contribution question to the future.

"Then," prodded Hawes, "you prefer not to express an opinion as to the percentage of cost that should be borne by the nation and the states?"

"I do not believe that we now have the facts on which to base a judgment," said Hoover. "The principle of local contributions has been applied for a century. It is a sound principle. How far it should be modified in this case remains to be determined."

and the Mississippi River Commission plan.

"The Jadwin plan," he continued, "appears to have been drawn up without consultation with anyone. Out of about 300 witnesses who have appeared before the House committee and this committee, I have found that save for the Jadwin plan except the general himself."

Hoover interrupted.

Hoover, sitting immediately to the left of the questioner, interrupted. He said that he did not think the committee would expect him to discuss matters that came under other departments of the Government. Hawes laid down a barrage of statistics showing the losses suffered by the valley in a series of floods.

The loss in 1927, he said, was between $320,000,000 and $384,000,000 and when the whole series beginning in 1903 was taken into account the total reached $1,400,000,000. In that period, the affected communities had spent $224,000,000.

The Federal Government had spent $71,000,000. "If," he said, "the amount called for in the Jadwin plan which is $286,000,000," Hawes went on, "we add the $71,000,000 already spent by the Government we have a total of $1,471,000,000 which is $42,000,000 less than the losses from floods."

"In these circumstances," inquired Hawes, "is the Jadwin report fair to the people of the Mississippi valley between Cairo and New Orleans?"

Hoover drew geometrical designs on the pad in front of him while the Senator was framing his long question.

Outside His Jurisdiction.

He replied that in his speeches he had endeavored to present the Valley problem on the people at large the details of any engineering plan for the control of floods he thought should be worked out by the War Department and the Congress. He did not think that the committee should ask him to criticize departments of the Government outside his jurisdiction.

Moreover, he said, the problem of contributions was much more complicated than it appeared on its face. There were many things such as the cost of rights of way and the amounts already spent for flood control that would have to be taken into account. He thought the President's agency should consider the problem and report about a year hence would meet the situation.

Hawes was not satisfied. He quoted from speech after speech along the lines in which Hoover had stressed the national character of the flood control problem.

"The question," he insisted, "is what should be the percentage of cost that the nation and the states should bear. The country which has been bled white already and in which some cases, changes would have to be made in State constitutions in order to give effect to the Jadwin plan."

Direct Question Put.

"Should this percentage," he plumped squarely at the witness, "be 20 per cent of the cost, or should the problem of contributions be regarded as a national problem?"

"The question of contribution," said Hoover, "is as complicated as the engineering problem involved and it requires as constructive a solution."

"The question," retorted Hawes, "is simply whether the cost of flood control should be paid wholly by the nation or paid in part by the states."

"I do not believe there is adequate information on which to base a determination at this time," said Hoover.

Hawes bored in again. He repeated that Hoover was on record for treating the flood control question as national. The committee, he said, must have a bill and he knew of no man better qualified to express an opinion than the witness. Hoover reiterated that Congress could go ahead with the construction work and leave the settlement of the contribution question to the future.

"Then," prodded Hawes, "you prefer not to express an opinion as to the percentage of cost that should be borne by the nation and the states?"

"I do not believe that we now have the facts on which to base a judgment," said Hoover. "The principle of local contributions has been applied for a century. It is a sound principle. How far it should be modified in this case remains to be determined."

were entitled to some representation.

Hoover replied that it was not proper for Hawes to try to force him into the position of criticizing his colleagues in the Government.

Hawes insisted, Hoover repeated the substance of his former answer.

Senator Harris (Dem.), Georgia, interrupted with an eulogy of the army engineers.

Hoover said that the experience of the country from the beginning had proved the superiority of one-man control over control by commissions. In the setting up of any administrative organ, he said, it was of fundamental importance to have a single, administrative head, for uniformity of action and responsibility.

"We agree as to the administration," said Hawes, "but the question is whether in the planning of an expenditure that may reach half a billion dollars, should we not call in some of the greater civilian engineers of the country?"

Hoover said that the whole problem was to obtain effective engineers, whether they were army or civilians. He thought that civilians would probably be less effective than the army engineers, because of the greater experience of the latter.

There the matter rested. Senator Russell (Dem.) of Louisiana put in a friendly air. He asked whether establishment of a Government hydraulic laboratory would not be a good thing. Hoover agreed that it would be.

Willis Quizzes Rival.

Senator Willis, who had been sitting quiet at the far end of the table, broke in with a couple of questions. The exchange between the two political adversaries was without fireworks.

Willis asked whether Hoover thought Congress should lay down policy of a detailed plan of flood control. Hoover replied that certain major items, such as flood ways, spillways and the strengthening of the levees might well be included in the bill, but he did not think it should go into engineering details.

To another question by Willis, Hoover said the commission that he had in mind would deal solely with the financial and economic details of the plan.

Willis asked if he would care to express an opinion as between the Jadwin plan and the Mississippi River Commission plan. "No, I am not competent to do that," he replied.

Hawes again took the witness in hand. He recalled that at Rapid City, S. D., last July Hoover had given an interview in which he said: "In the face of their great losses and their present destitution, I do not see how the people along the river can contribute much more than the maintenance of the control works, after they have been constructed."

"Not to be pinned down," said Hawes, "whether you meant they could not contribute another cent more, or 20 per cent more?"

"I have endeavored to make clear to you, Senator," replied Hoover, "that the whole subject requires a lot more investigation. I might add that there are some problems which I think cannot be determined by legislation, even if there were a will to do so."

Earlier in the hearing, Hoover replied to Senator Fletcher (Dem.) of Florida, that spillways and flood ways were a necessary part of a flood control program. He said that it would be better to build a levee above than below New Orleans.

His proposal, as laid before President Coolidge, incorporated the main features of the Jadwin plan, but compromises on the controversial point of payment of part of the cost by Mississippi Valley States.

The Jones bill, which the author said would be laid before the committee next week, does not call for contributions from local communities as does the administration's proposal, but provides that states in the Southern Mississippi Valley affected by flood control works shall pay $12,500,000 which they consented to contribute in 1924 to bring levees to standard height.

In the meantime Chairman Reid of the House Flood Control Committee said that he would press for passage of the bill which would place the entire expense on the Federal Government. A group of representatives opposed to the Reid bill were awaiting a new administration plan which was said to be under consideration by Army engineers.

Jadwin Drafts Another Bill. Major-General Jadwin, Chief of Engineers, today furnished the draft of a new flood control bill to Representative Kopp (Rep.), Iowa, on the House Flood Control Committee. The measure proposed a method of defraying payments of State contributions where the states were unable to meet the assessments. It would provide a 20 per cent contribution to the actual construction cost by the States which also would furnish the land and rights of way for the proposed flood ways and levees.

A Federal appropriation of $20,000,000 would be made and the work would be under the supervision of the chief of Army engineers and the War Department with the Mississippi River Commission acting in an advisory and co-operative capacity.

The proposed measure sets aside $2,000,000 for the survey of tributaries rivers of the Mississippi and reservoir investigations.

13 REPORTED KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSION

Fire Halts Rescuers After 107 Escape From Pit at Jenny Lind, Ark.

By the Associated Press.

PORT SMITH, Ark., Feb. 24.—Thirteen miners presumably lost their lives today in the explosion in a Mama Coal Co. mine at Jenny Lind, 11 miles from here, officials said after a check of survivors. None of the bodies had been removed late today.

Miners who escaped said they saw the bodies of Dorrie Templeton, 22 years old, nephew of W. E. Templeton, mine superintendent, and Valentine Berzak, 40, a pit boss.

When the explosion occurred 125 men were in Mine No. 2. Of those, 107 escaped and 16 are accounted for. A certain effort is being made to rescue the 16 who were held rescue workers back. There was half a mile from the surface.

The explosion is thought to have occurred in Mama Mine No. 11, which is joined to No. 2. The 16 men escaped through the steps at Mine No. 20, also adjoining. Ambulances, doctors and nurses were rushed to the scene from Port Smith and other nearby cities. Many rescue workers were overcome by smoke in the rescue work. Supt. Templeton and Claude Stogel, State mine inspector, are in charge of rescue work.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Thomas W. Miller, former Alien Property Custodian, convicted in New York City of conspiracy to defraud the Government, today asked the Supreme Court to set aside his sentence of 18 months' imprisonment in Atlanta and a fine of $5000.

Miller asserted that his indictment was defective because it was returned after the statute of limitation had run, because it was not proven that the Government had been defrauded or had lost anything, and, further, that the agreement of the jury on Harry E. ## SHELTONS' POLICE BLOTTER ALIBI INQUIRY DROPPED

East St. Louis Commission Votes 2 to 1 to End In-

CHAIRMAN ACCUSES TWO COUNCILMEN

Hynes Says the "Coercive" Tactics They Employed Makes Further Proceedings Useless.

By vote of two to one, members of the Board of Police Commissioners of East St. Louis decided last night to drop their investigation to ascertain how the names of two of the Shelton brothers happened to be placed on a police blotter at East St. Louis Police Headquarters at the time they were charged with having robbed the Kinkaid (Ill.) Trust Co. in 1924.

The Sheltons, Carl, Bernie and Earl, were convicted of the robbery charge recently and were given prison sentences, after a handwriting expert, summoned by the State, had testified the entries of the Sheltons' names on the blotter were spurious. The blotter, with their names on it, had been introduced in evidence by Earl and Bernie Shelton in an effort to prove their alibi that they had been in the East Side jail at the time of the robbery.

The resolution to drop the investigation was made by Police Commissioner Bischoff, after a report on the proceeding had been read by Stephen Hynes, president of the Board. In his report Hynes stated: "We have not sufficient evidence for any further action by this board. On account of coercive tactics used by two of the City Councilmen, we believe it is useless to proceed any further."

Two Officials Watch Inquiry.
Hynes' mention of the two City Commissioners obviously referred to John J. Hallahan and Albert Lauman, members of the City Council, who have followed the investigation closely. Hallahan introduced the resolution in the Council requesting the inquiry and Lauman has been insistent in his demands that three policemen who testified at the Shelton trial that Earl and Bernie Shelton were in the East St. Louis jail at the time of the robbery, in support of the Shelton alibi, be dismissed from the force.

Both Hallahan and Lauman say they have not used "coercive tactics" but have tried merely to assist the board in making the investigation effective. Hallahan today said he will defer any further action on the matter until individual reports of the Police Commissioners on the case, which they have agreed to make, are filed. It is expected that the report of Thomas J. Hayes Jr., the third member of the board, who voted against the motion to drop the investigation, will recommend that the inquiry be carried further.

Inquiry on Two Months.
The investigation, which began two months ago, soon after the Sheltons had been convicted, was held up for several weeks until Commissioner Hayes went to the Christian County Circuit Court at Taylorville and got the police blotter with the alleged spurious entries on it, and a transcript of the testimony of the East Side policemen, Lieut. Thomas J. O'Brien, Detective Sergeant O'Brien and Detective Campbell.

A police official has declared the entries in the blotter were not placed there in any regular way and that the Sheltons were not under arrest in East St. Louis at the time of the bank robbery. A resolution of the Police Board at its meeting last week that funds be provided for hiring a handwriting expert, which has been presented to the City Council, has not yet been acted on.

WIFE BEATER'S $75 FINE RAISED TO $500 ON APPEAL

Joe Liebeskech Admits He Was Drunk; Sons Thrashed Him

A fine striking Joe Liebeskech, 43 years old, a baker, of 4132 Gratiot street, was increased yesterday to $500 when he appealed from the Police Court to Judge Gustafson. Liebeskech was charged with disturbing the peace of his wife, Mary, Feb. 1, when, according to her testimony, he came home drunk and beat her. Their sons, Joe, 19, and John, 20 years old, testified that they had thrashed their father after he had beaten their mother.

Liebeskech, though pleading not guilty, admitted coming home drunk and "raising Cain."

He asked to be let out, saying he had an uncle living near town. At Sikeston the travelers discovered that $2000 they had in the car was missing. ## 'PEARLS' MADE OF FISH SCALES

British Columbia Scientists Announce Discovery of Process.

VICTORIA, British Columbia, Feb. 24.—British Columbia scientists have discovered a process for making "pearls" from an essence derived from the scales of herring. The Provincial Department of Fisheries announces. Manufacture of the new pearl-producing essence has been undertaken by a plant at Nanaimo, with a capacity of 10,000 pounds of herring scales a day. The essence is shipped to New York, where it is converted into pearls.

Thousands of tons of herring scales have hitherto been dumped into the sea every year by the herring salteries of the British Columbia coast, because they were considered useless.

SUIT FOR $95,000 LOST ON FALSE TESTIMONY

Two Women Retract Statements Describing How Railroad Man Was Killed.

Circuit Judge Peary directed a jury yesterday to find in favor of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co. in a suit against it for $95,000 on account of the death of Lester P. McKiernan, a switchman. McKiernan was crushed between two cars at Ashburn, Mo. two years ago.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Edna McKiernan, in behalf of herself as the widow and her minor child. The court's action followed the retraction of their testimony by two young women who originally testified they were eyewitnesses to the accident.

These witnesses were Mrs. Flossie Madden and Mrs. Flora Darnell, cousins and residents of Ashburn, who at first testified they had seen McKiernan being killed by a coupling between the cars. On cross-examination conducted by Douglas D. Robert, attorney for the defense, both witnesses admitted they had not actually seen the accident, but did see McKiernan lying on the ground after he fell.

Admit They Testified Falsely.
They informed the court that in making their original statements they followed an instrument which was prepared by Wilson Noell and which they did not read. Mrs. Darnell explained that her uncle learned she had testified falsely and he reported the matter to a lawyer, Attorney Frank D. Noell, who prepared the instrument. "I am not going to lie for nobody from now on," Mrs. Darnell assured the court.

Noells Deny Allegations.
The Noells denied there had been any attempt to get the witnesses to swear falsely. They admitted that during the trial they had been entertained by representatives for the railroad company and that clothes had been bought for them here. However, some of the money used for this purpose came from the expense money given by plaintiffs' side for them to make the trip to St. Louis, they said.

It was the contention of Mrs. McKiernan in her suit that the automatic coupling device on the cars was defective, necessitating her husband's going between to adjust them and in that way he lost his life. The defendant denied there was any defect and asserted the accident was due to negligence on the part of McKiernan.

As the suit was filed under the Federal Employers' Liability Act it was necessary to furnish evidence testimony on the principal issue for plaintiff to maintain her case. In view of the fact this character of testimony was retracted Judge Peary held that there was no evidence on which to send the case to the jury. Charles Noell announced he probably would move to have the ruling set aside. He contended that the turn the trial took was part of defendant's plan to "blow up" the case.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 24.—A well-dressed woman about 35 years old, giving her name as Mrs. John C. (Nellie) O'Brien, was shot, probably fatally, near Ninth street and Baltimore avenue, in the city's business center, today, under circumstances not clear to the police.

The woman was found when John Warren, taxicab driver, answered a hurry call to the scene, which is opposite the Submarine Inn, a night club. There he saw the woman, supported by two men, who told him to take her to the hospital and then hurried away.

phreys. The newly discovered contract with the Western Oil Fields Corporation is expected to open up equally important leads.

Another Guarantee Probable.
It is believed that this contract required a guarantee similar to that which Sinclair and Stewart supplied for the Continental Trading Co. in the case of its contract with Humphreys. If it should be discovered that Stewart and Sinclair also guaranteed the Western Oil Fields contract, it will go to discredit the testimony of Stewart, head of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, that he guaranteed the Continental contract with Humphreys only as a matter of form. It may thus play an important part in the fate of Stewart, who is now being held under bond pending appeal for his refusal to testify before the Senate Committee.

It is known that both Sinclair and Stewart were indirectly interested in the transfer of a half interest in this contract with the Western Oil Fields Corporation to the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, on May 28, 1923, simultaneously with the transfer of the Humphreys contract. This transfer of contract, which still had a value of more than $5,000,000, for a consideration of only $400,000, was denounced by the United States Supreme Court as one of the elements which demonstrated the illegality of the entire transaction.

Hull Says Democrats Got None of Continental's Bonds.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The Senate Teapot Dome Committee yesterday learned from Congressman Cordell Hull of Tennessee that none of the Continental Trading Co.'s Liberty Bonds found their way to the Democratic National Committee to help it wipe out its 1920 deficit in its treasury.

Hull, the committee's former chairman, declared that neither Sinclair nor any of his associates in the Continental deal contributed to the party's fund. He declared none of the Continental bonds were given to the committee and said the Democratic organization "has been d-n-e a serious injustice" by earlier reports that it might have received some of McKiernan's.

Hull informed the committee that he took charge of the Democratic National organization on Nov. 1, 1921, succeeding George White of Ohio. The committee's deficit at that time, he said, was $186,000, and not $600,000, as had been stated in some published reports. He added that of the $186,000, some $118,000 existed before the 1920 campaign and that the deficit was wiped out before he "it as chairman in 1924."

ILLINOIS GASOLINE TAX UNCONSTITUTIONAL

State Supreme Court Reverses Lower Tribunal's Decision in Test Case.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 24.—The Illinois Supreme Court today held the State gasoline tax unconstitutional. The law placed a tax of two cents on each gallon of gasoline sold in Illinois.

The test case reached the court as an appeal from a decision of the judges of the Circuit Court of Kane County, sitting en banc in the case of the Chicago Motor Club against Garret Kinney, State Treasurer; Oscar Nelson, State Auditor, and A. C. Bollinger, director of the State Department of Finance.

The Court declared that the gasoline tax law contravened both the State and Federal constitutions. Judgment of the Circuit Court was reversed and the cause remanded with directions to enter a decree dismissing the demurrer of the State against the bill for injunction.

The greater part of the money already collected by the State since July 1, will, however, remain in the State's treasury. Only those who paid the tax under protest will receive a refund as a result of the Court's decision. The rest of the money has been paid into the State treasury and cannot be refunded without passing an appropriation through the Legislature.

It is presumed that counties will receive credit for their share of the tax already collected. The Court characterized the law as "an unintelligible piece of legislation" and declared that various State and county officers intrusted with the tax collection and administration could not tell their duties from a reading of the law. It also held that the refund clause by which those who used gasoline for purposes other than operation of vehicles on the highways was a "gift from the State Treasury" and therefore unconstitutional.

Colby Says Wife's Pen Drove Him Out of U. S.

PAULIS, Feb. 22.—Former President Millerand pleaded at the Versailles court yesterday for a divorce for Bainbridge Colby, former United States Secretary of State. His wife is the former Natalie Sedgwick.

Colby's grievance, according to Millerand, is that his wife made life impossible for him in America, largely by her novels, "The Green Forest," and "The Black Stream," in which she held up a certain statesman to ridicule. That statesman, according to Colby, was himself.

As a result of her literary activities, he said, he felt compelled to seek exile in France and elected to reside in Saint Cloud, near Paris. Millerand also said that in her novels Mrs. Colby attacked the late President Harding.

The judge will consider the evidence next week. The Colbys have been married for more than 20 years. The present suit was filed last September.

The Colbys were married in 1895.

When it was first hinted that "The Green Forest" was suggested at least by the personality of Bainbridge Colby, his wife replied that he was "much too colossal a figure to be encompassed in any single book."

"Indeed," she added, "his nature is one of generosity, nobility, the direct antithesis of the political character in the book."

C. C. CHAIRMAN FACES SENATORS TO DEFEND ESCH

Appears at Committee Hearing on Nomination to Combat Charge Politics Influenced Votes.

SAYS COMMISSION WAS WITHIN RIGHTS

Declares Members Should Be as "Free of Fear of Political Decapitation" as Federal Judges.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Chambers of the confirmation of John J. Esch of Wisconsin to succeed himself on the Interstate Commerce Commission appeared today before the Senate committee dealing with the nomination in the persons of Chairman Campbell of the commission, and John B. Bennett, general solicitor of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners. Bennett stressed that he was stating only his own views, and not speaking for the association.

Campbell said he took it that Esch was charged with having "given in to political influence" in the lake cargo coal decision.

"I have sat intimately with Esch and Aitchison for six years in many thousand cases," he declared. "There is not a man who can say that either of them has ever given consideration to anything but the evidence before them in reaching a decision."

Campbell charged an injustice. Esch had been controlled by outside influences were an injustice to the Commissioner's "long reputation for honorable dealing," adding that the members of the commission had the right to be as "free of political decapitation" as Federal Judges.

The witness said that the commission was within its rights in suspending the proposed voluntary 20 cent cut by Southern carriers in lake coal shipments, as Congress had required it to see that a fair return was made by the roads and the coal cut might have meant an increase in rates in some other commodities to provide that return.

To Conclude Hearings Today.
Luther M. Walter appeared by direction of the National Industrial Traffic League to combat the theory of "turning the Senate of the United States into an appellate tribunal for a losing litigant before the commission."

"I don't come here in behalf of Esch as a man, but in opposition to the principle that he should be denied confirmation because of his vote in the Lakes coal case," Walter said. "An appeal to the court could have been taken in that case."

The committee agreed to conclude the hearings today.

Declaring the intention of Congress with relation to the Interstate Commerce Commission "has been muddled" by adoption of the Hoch-Smith resolution looking to an equalization of freight rates in the interest of agriculture, Henry C. Hall, former member of the commission, told the committee yesterday that "rather than punish an individual an effort should be made to clarify the law."

Either Fit or Unfit to Serve.
"Commissioner Esch either is fit or is unfit to serve," Hall told the committee. "If he is fit to serve, he should be confirmed, unless you go further and declare he should not serve because his opinions differ from yours."

"Clarification of the law would be the best policy, rather than bringing to a public servant such a heavy weight to bear for the rest of his days."

Hall testified the Commission did not base its second decision in the Lakes cargo case on the Hoch-Smith resolution. He pointed out that rules of the Commission provide for reconsideration and re-argument on the record in a case and the outcome of such reconsideration may bring a change in opinion.

Commissioner Aitchison testified that, while he did not want to appear as quibbling with the Committee, he did not consider that he had changed his vote in the case. "Testimony in the two considerations of the case was different, and I had a right to my judgment, unhampered and free of any opinion I previously had. The second hearing brought out a different record and I understood the case better."

DINER TIPS WAITRESS AND THEN ROBS CAFE

Cashier of Rex Restaurant Forced to Turn Over $85
in Receipts.

After eating a hearty dinner and tipping the waitress, a tall, heavy-set man drew a revolver and held up the cashier of the Rex Restaurant, 4412 Olive street, escaping with $85, last night.

Michael Nurnberger, grocer at 3032 North Eleventh street, was slugged by two men who posed as customers. When he regained consciousness the men and $35 were gone.

"All you bosses, take a good look at me," ordered a man who held up two clerks and three customers in the McCormack Pharmacy, 401 North Sarah street, taking $100.

The order was obeyed, and consequently police got a good description of the robber.

"Hand me the soft money," said a man who drove up to a Standard Oil filling station at 7001 Manchester avenue. Clifford Smith, the attendant, saw a shotgun on the man's knees and handed over $15 in currency.

A sneak thief took $180 from Nathan Tashman's grocery, 5781 Easton avenue.

Two men in an automobile rammed a truck driven by Raymond Laramore, an employee of the Leffon Co., at Manchester and Hampton avenues, and robbed him of $44.55.

A Negro working under directions of a white man robbed Grover Duncan, manager of a Kroger store at 3203 Laclede avenue of $55.

A radio set and other articles worth $50 were stolen from the home of William Altheer, 6122 Clayton avenue.

UNIVERSITY CITY SERVICE CAR TAX GOES TO SUPREME COURT

Test Suit Filed By Driver's Counsel For Habeas Corpus Writ After His Arrest.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 24.—A test of the legality of a University City ordinance, requiring service car owners to pay a city license of $25 for each car operated, was instituted in Supreme Court with the filing today of an application for a writ of habeas corpus for B. W. Schiller, service car driver, who was arrested for alleged violation of the ordinance.

Henry J. Cantwell, attorney for Schiller, said previous attempt had been made to test validity of the ordinance but in each instance charges against drivers arrested were dismissed before a test case could be filed.

The ordinance, enacted last August, is attacked on the ground that it imposes a license fee in conflict with a State law authorizing cities to impose fees on automobiles not to exceed one-third of the State license. It is contended the licensing of service cars is not authorized in the charter powers of University City. Schiller's car was licensed in St. Louis, but operated on a route terminating in University City.

KANSAS CITY AIR MAIL PLANS

Postoffice Department Considers Linking City to St. Louis.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The Postoffice Department announced today that consideration is being given to proposals to establish an air mail route between St. Louis and Kansas City.

The establishment of this route, which has been advocated by business interests in both cities and in cities between the two points, would provide an all-night service between St. Louis and Texas and Oklahoma points. Under the present plan a plane would leave St. Louis about 11 p. m. and Kansas City about 1:55 a. m., reaching all points on the National Air Transport and the Texas Air Transport routes in Oklahoma and Texas the same morning.

10TH GANG DEFENDANT FREED

Mike Datillo, freed today upon motion of Attorney Sigmund Bass, was the tenth defendant in the murder of Alphonse Palazolo, Sept. 9 last, to be released by the Circuit Attorney's nolle prosequi, following the acquittal of Ralph Calico by a jury.

Mike Longo alone of the men indicted for the gang killing remains under indictment. Bass asked for his release, but action was withheld until next Wednesday, with the explanation that the Circuit Attorney had new information to investigate.

SUNDAY SAYS HOOVER CAN BEAT GOV. SMITH

Evangelist Applauded When He Mentions Dry Stand of Secretary.

Billy Sunday attributed the machine gun fights, bombings and air-plane raids of Southern Illinois gang warfare to St. Louis crooks in his sermon at the Coliseum last night. He completed a revival in West Frankfort last November.

"There's just as good folks up there as ever lived," he declared. "A lot of St. Louis crooks went down there and hid behind machine guns and shot the flag and the Constitution full of holes."

He told of visiting Charlie Birger, gang leader in prison under sentence of death, and Radio Millich, one of Birger's followers, 45 minutes before Millich was hanged Oct. 21 at Marion for killing a fellow-gangster at the Birger retreat, "Shady Rest."

The evangelist said that Birger complimented him on a sermon Birger had heard, but that Millich said, "I'm going it alone. There were three preachers on the jury that convicted me." Millich's attitude, however, was friendly as Sunday described it, and their parting was almost affectionate.

Answers to Prayer.

"God always answers prayer—'yes.' 'No.' 'Wait.'—But he always answers," Sunday declared. He said that his function was to get people into the church and not to shepherd them afterward. "Going to church doesn't make you a Christian any more than going to a garage makes you an automobile," he said. His text was from Acts XVI, 30, "What must I do to be saved?"

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who came out flatly for prohibition enforcement and against repeal of the eighteenth amendment, is sure to be the next President if the Republicans nominate him and the Democrats nominate Senator Reed or Gov. Smith, Sunday declared. The gathering applauded the prediction. It had cheered the mere mention of Hoover's stand. "Souvenir" checks are being distributed at this week's meetings. They bear Sunday's picture and will bear his autograph when he endorses them. Offerings of this, the final week of the seven-week revival, go to the evangelist personally. Earlier collections have paid expenses and the salaries of his staff.

Objections Answered.

Investigation of a complaint by a local minister that Sunday had shown signs of "commercialism" in his Chicago revival, Ralph T. Finley of the local committee announced from the platform, had disclosed that, before Sunday began that revival, he had pledged all he received to the Pacific Garden Mission, where he was converted.

Finley, an attorney, said the local committee had heard all obtainable objections in advance, investigated all, and found none substantial. All the $120,000 Sunday obtained in New York, he said, was given to war work.

Finley said that the function of local pastors, receiving altogether about $500,000 a year, was to "tend their flocks," whereas Sunday reached those who never went to church, and, "whether you agree with all his methods and theology or not, you must admit that 'The fire of God descends upon him on the battlefield.'"

He called attention to the number of pledges of recommitment and conversion by adults, and promises of young people to enter the church. Chairman F. J. Balk of the secretaries said today that the total is 5227. The figure includes 32 reconsecrations and 64 apparent conversions last night.

The largest delegation of the revival attended last night from the Brown Shoe Co., filling the left half of the arena. Another large delegation attended from Ely & Walker Dry Goods Co.

The revival is to close Sunday night, with sermons for everybody at the Coliseum at 10:30 a. m., 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Offerings for the evangelist will continue at each of the remaining meetings, and the total and the special contributions of church members and co-operating churches will be announced next week. Co-operating churches are to close for the Sunday morning meeting.

STATE TO SPEND $10,000,000 FOR ROADS THIS YEAR

Contracts for Additional Construction to Be Let in Small Lots at Frequent Intervals.

REDUCED REVENUE CURTAILS PROJECTS

Early Lettings to Enable Contractors to Begin Work as Soon as Weather Permits.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 24.—
Contracts for road work in Missouri will be let rapidly this spring until about $20,000,000 available for additional construction has been exhausted, highway officials have indicated.

Plans and specifications covering the allotted construction are being pushed in order that bids may be received as soon as possible.

By following the custom of small lettings at frequent intervals, the department hopes to have nearly all of the available road construction money contracted for by the time road building conditions become favorable, enabling contractors to start early and complete their contracts this year.

It was pointed out that $10,000,- 000 now available for road work will allow only a comparatively small bit of construction to be carried forward this year in comparison with the work completed in other recent years.

Decrease in Revenue.
Curtailement of contracts let naturally follows the decrease in revenue for the next year or two, it was asserted. As now projected, the highway system could be finished by 1927 from funds derived from automobile registration and gasoline tax.

The department points out, however, that increase in motor vehicle traffic has made it necessary from time to time to increase the proportionate mileage of higher type roads in the system, thereby increasing the cost. If such revision continues, it was added, a longer time will be required to finish the road system because progress is dependent upon current revenues.

During 1927 the Highway Department made a special effort to close gaps in the State system by graveling short sections between improved projects, by oiling other sections, by widening and improving portions of the temporary system and by building temporary bridges over fords. It is expected that part of the available money for 1928 will be spent to continue closing gaps with a view, it was said, of rendering better and continuous service to the traveling public.

Maintenance Improved.
Keeping in good shape the 7840-mile Missouri highway system, even though it is but little more than half completed, is one of the big jobs of the Highway Department, officials declare, adding that continual improvement of the maintenance was noted last year when 7565 miles of the designated State road system were maintained by a full time patrol system.

Constant improvement in keeping the finished and unfinished roads in the best condition has been evident, with the growth of the system, the officials say, except on a few sections where traffic had increased to such a volume that maintenance became difficult.
This will be the case until changes can be made in the type of surfaces on such sections.

Service in Emergencies.
Eight hundred sixty-five men are busy maintaining the highways and 729 of them are individual patrolmen, in most instances residents of the communities in which they work.

Innumerable duties are necessary to maintain the State's highways and the department points out that one of the evidences of service rendered by the public was the aid extended by the maintenance forces in Southeast Missouri during the floods last spring. Assistance was given in holding levees, rushing men and supplies, transporting the National Guard, rescuing families from the flood areas, and assisting the Red Cross. Another highlight in the year's service was assistance rendered during the Poplar Bluff tornado, the highway maintenance forces being among the first on the ground after the storm struck.

ARCHIVES KEEP TWO MEN BUSY Experts Restore Old Documents in U. S. Files at Washington.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—It requires the services of two men to combat the effects of time on crumbling old files in the State Department archives.
William W. Maloney and William G. Walde, Treasury experts in the restoration of old documents, spend their time in a small room on the top floor of the State Department Building patching together and repairing the valuable old letters. At present they are working on the correspondence files of George Washington's administration, pressing out the folds of valuable letters and patching together the torn pieces before years.

PASSENGERS TO VOTE ON CAR ENTRANCE PLAN

Front or Rear Door, Will Be Question on Ballot, Monday.

Do the street car riders of St. Louis like the front-entrance system now used on Public Service Co. cars, or would they rather return to the old system of entering cars by the back door?

In an effort to determine just what the public likes better, the traction company will take a vote of its passengers next Monday, and the vote will determine its policy on entrance rules. The vote, however, will apply only to the older cars. The new coaches of the 700 type, with center doors were built especially for front entrance only and they will not be affected by the vote.

On Monday morning conductors will hand every passenger a card for the vote. From the directions on it the passenger will find that if he tears off the upper right corner of the card he is casting a vote for the rear-entrance plan. If he tears off the lower right corner he is voting for a retention of the present system. Ballot boxes will be placed in the cars and the count will be made at the close of the day. Posters announcing the balloting plan were in the cars today.

POLICE SEIZE LOTTERY TICKETS IN SEARCH FOR RACE EVIDENCE

617 Found in Room Over Commission House; Seven Arrested for Gambling.

In a room over a commission house at 612 North Fourth street, police yesterday arrested Peter Sento and confiscated 617 lottery tickets which promised prizes ranging from $250 to $25, and 17 "Louisiana lottery" tickets. Police had gone there looking for evidence of horse race betting, but found none. In seven other raids, police reported they had seized racing forms and memoranda and arrested the following men:

Walter M. Powers, 329 1/2 De Baliviere avenue; Sam Rustein, 611 North Broadway; Henry Mocklin, 1127 Chestnut street; Joseph Kronberg, McKinley Hotel; Tony Bonmarito, 906 North Ninth street; James McEnroe, 710 North Eighth street; Henry Tabacnic, 805 Lucas avenue.

Mule Market Officer Dies.

Mr. Hale, who was 47 years old, resided in East St. Louis for 26 years. He is survived by his widow, a son, Howard Hale, and a daughter, Gertrude Adole Hale. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Gas on Stomach for 10 Years; Keeps Trying Everything

AFTER TRYING everything advertised or recommended for the relief of gas bloating and indigestion, Mr. Belland had just about given up hope. But one day he saw an advertisement like this one, and you can imagine how delighted he was when at last he found what he had searched for so long—complete relief! Here is what he says:

"I suffered with gas and other stomach trouble for over 10 years. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing seemed to help. Then I got a bottle of Adlerika and it helped me right from the start. Since taking it, I am feeling like a new man."—Ed Belland, Virginia, Minn.

Quick Action Surprises

AS GENTLY and naturally as taking a drink of water, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowels, bringing immediate relief from gas bloating, intestinal stasis and chronic constipation. The very FIRST dose of Adlerika often brings out astonishing amounts of old waste matter from the intestinal canal. This poisonous matter may have been in the intestines a long time, causing gas, headache, sleeplessness and many other symptoms. A treatment of a few doses of Adlerika often corrects chronic constipation and intestinal stasis, so that just a small dose, now and then, keeps the intestines and stomach in a most satisfactory condition.

What Doctors Say

DR. H. LOUIS SHOUPE, B. Sc., well-known New York pathologist, after laboratory tests on living subjects, states: "Adlerika very markedly reduces the number of bacteria and colon bacilli. This feature increases the therapeutic value of Adlerika, because, in addition to its intestinal cleansing action, it inhibits the growth of these intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. J. Lancaster, a physician of over a quarter century's active experience, makes this statement: "In the treatment of gastro-intestinal disorders, (where thorough evacuation is indicated), Adlerika has no equal."

Dr. Carl Wescheke, a graduate of the world-famous medical University of Heidelberg, Germany, in his private practice, first perfected the intestinal cleanser and carminative now known as Adlerika. It is a compound of a specially processed saline intestinal evacuant with buckthorn and cascara, together with glycerine and other ingredients which expel gas and have detergent action.

Adlerika, unlike most other medicines, acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowels. It is recognized by many physicians as the one dependable remedy for gas, intestinal stasis and chronic constipation, or whenever real intestinal cleansing is needed. Even if your bowels move every day, Adlerika may surprise you by bringing out poisonous, gas-forming matter which you would never believe was in your system.

which you would never believe was in your system.

In just a single month, over one thousand men and women wrote that they obtained wonderful relief from even a short treatment with Adlerika. Many of them said that now, after all other treatments and medicines had failed, they are at last rid of gas, indigestion, sour stomach, sleeplessness, nervousness or other trouble due in their cases to intestinal stasis. And now, these folks say, they are again able to eat and enjoy the foods they like.

No matter what you have tried for the bowels and stomach, Adlerika will surprise you.
Sold by over 39,000 druggists.

SECOND VETO OF FARM RELIEF BILL FORECAST

Haugen, However, Says Majority of Committee Favors Measure.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A prediction that President Coolidge again would veto the McNary-Haugen equalization fee farm relief bill came today from several sources in the House.

At the same time Chairman Haugen of the agriculture committee said that at least 12 of the committee's 21 members had indicated that they would support the measure. He added that he expected the committee hearings to be concluded by the end of this week with executive sessions following immediately.

Another method of assisting the agricultural industry was advanced in a bill introduced yesterday by Representative Connally (Dem.) of Texas, based on the export corporation and export debenture plan supported by the national grange.

In an accompanying statement, the Texan declared the equalization fee was "hopeless and to pass it again, when it is known that it cannot become a law, is simply to play politics with the farmer." He expressed the opinion that the President would veto a bill containing the equalization fee clause.

During a plea for agricultural tariff revision by Representative Bankhead (Dem.) of Alabama, on the floor, Representative Ketchum (Rep.) of Michigan, member of the committee, interjected his view that the equalization fee bill was a futile gesture.

At the hearing, Sydney Anderson of Minneapolis, president of the Millers' National Federation and a former member of the House, urged modification of the bill so that farmers and agricultural manufacturers would raise half of the proposed $400,000,000 revolving fund, instead of it being borne wholly by the Government.

TAXES OUTSIDE BAKERIES
Fulton Makes Levy on Foreign Bakery Trucks.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
FULTON, Mo., Feb. 24.—The City Council has passed an ordinance placing an annual tax of $60 on every truck of a foreign bakery operating in this city, and an additional tax of $10 a year for doing business in Fulton.
Some time ago the Council passed an ordinance levying a tax of $10 a day on all foreign bread trucks, but it was not enforced when a similar ordinance at Harrisonville, Mo., was declared to be unconstitutional.

ADVERTISEMENT
DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your towels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's surplus waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

TO OPPOSE LABELING OF PRISON PRODUCTS

Head of Missouri Penal Board to Appear Before Congressional Committee.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 24.—A. H. Harrison, director of penal institutions and chairman of the State Penal Board, will go to Washington next week to appear before a congressional committee in opposition to the Hawes-Cooper bill, requiring all convict-made goods to be so labeled when sold in states whose laws require the labeling of prison-made goods.

Passage of this bill would be disastrous to the industrial department of the Missouri Penitentiary, since a considerable part of its products are sold in Eastern states which have label laws governing their own prison-made goods.

Jobbs no. buying the Missouri prison products usually put their own labels on the goods, and a convict-made label virtually would make the good unsalable, it was stated.

Enactment of such legislation virtually would put an end to the Missouri prison factories, it was asserted, and increase the cost of the institution to the State by approximately $2,500,000 a year. Under such conditions the additional funds for support of the prison would have to be drawn from the general revenue fund of the State, or the counties be required to pay the maintenance of all convicts they send to the prison, it was said.

WILL ROGERS TELLS OF LINDBERGH ABROAD

Humorist Doubts If Home Folk Appreciate His Hold on the World's Affections.

"Seriously, I don't believe you home folks appreciate what that boy Lindbergh means to the world," Will Rogers, comedian, told a fair sized audience at the Odeon last night. "You have to see Lindbergh in a foreign country to realize what a grip he has on people's hearts—not just one class of people—everybody. In the Latin countries they're kind of cuckoo, anyhow, all excited about anything that interests them—but in Mexico City for instance, all kinds of rumors got about the field where thousands were waiting to see him land, that Lindy was lost, and believe me it was a personal matter with everybody there. And when he came what a reception he got. I was in Cuba when Coolidge came in. He got a wonderful reception but it was just a rehearsal for the one they gave Lindbergh."

Rogers gave the low-down on a lot of things people want to know about prominent personages in the course of two hours of gum-chewing in which he mentioned scarcely anyone under the rank of Ambassador. There was the matter of Lindbergh and the bullfight. Lindbergh came down to breakfast in Mexico City to find the English page of the newspaper crowded with headlines telling how the humane societies of the United States were telegraphing, radiating and telephoning, urging him not to give his contenance to a brutal and degrading sport by attending a bullfight. "Well," said Lindbergh, according to the veracious Rogers, "I guess that settles it. Say, what time does that bullfight start?"

Rogers didn't care for the after-dinner speakers' habit of calling Lindbergh the "Columbus of the air." "Columbus, my foot! Columbus was lost when he discovered America." And about the talk of getting Lindbergh to quit risking his life by going up in airplanes—you might as well tell a bird to stop flying.

By way of warming up his audience at the outset, Rogers took a poll of presidential preferences, mentioning Hoover, Lowden and Davis of the Republicans and Reed, Smith and Fitch of the Democrats. Then he discussed the candidates from both the Republican and the Democratic angle. Both parties were corrupt but the Republicans paid more.

Hoover fed us on slogans while he took away our food during the war and didn't do himself a bit of good by his flood relief work. He saved the lives of a lot of people in the flood, but they were all Democrats. Rogers treated Reed with no levity at all, but praised him as a man with the courage of his convictions. Al Smith's personality was such that he could make a speech in Tom Heflin's home town in Alabama and get himself elected honorary "kleagle" before he left. Smith's religion would hurt his chances for the presidency—he would be elected hands down if he would only change his politics.

Sam Fordyce was in a box and Rogers called him to witness the truth of an account of the Jackson day dinner in Washington. It seems that Will had gone there with a serious speech beginning: "There he stands like a stone wall," then found it was Andrew and not Stonewall Jackson the dinner was in honor of. He told, too, how a little man named Claude G. Bowers walked off with the honors of the evening by making a brilliant speech that covered everything from Jackson to Coolidge in a way that left nothing for anybody else to talk about.

Charles Evans Hughes saved the United States at the Havana conference, Rogers said. "We didn't come out with colors flying, but we came out and that's a lot. "Any time America goes into a conference with foreign powers and doesn't lose something, she wins."

Much Winter Wheat Killed.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 24.—Wheat and alfalfa were subjected to freezing and thawing the week ending Tuesday. The Weather Bureau and here yesterday. "A snowstorm occurred in Illinois on the seventeenth and eighteenth."

"One-half to two inches fell generally in the central and southern divisions, with two to six inches in the north. The ground was mostly covered during the two cold days. Wheat and alfalfa were subjected to freezing and thawing this week. Much has been winter killed. Roads are frozen rough."

ENGINEERS' NATIONAL OFFICER PUNISHED FOR CONTEMPT

By the Associated Press. WAYCROSS, Ga., Feb. 24.—R. E. Edgington, assistant grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was sentenced to five days in jail and fined $200 yesterday for contempt of court.

The sentence was imposed by Judge J. D. Blalock after hearing a complaint of certain members of the Waycross division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, that Edgington had violated the terms of a temporary injunction restraining him from expelling four members of the local or revoking the Waycross division charter. The four men expelled had formed a "Locomotive Engineers' Protective Committee" in the disagreement between the local and national organizations.

Three of the four men expelled, it was said, some time ago mailed out a circular letter to all divisions of the brotherhood in the United States and Canada declaring that charges of irregularities would be preferred against certain grand officers and former grand officers of the organization. Edgington, it was said, was sent here by Alvanley Johnson, chief engineer, to make investigation and on arrival was served with the injunction issued by Judge Blalock.

TESTIMONY AT DOCTOR'S TRIAL
ATTRACTS CROWDS IN CHICAGO
 Nurse, Promised Protection by Court, Tells of Illegal Operation on Woman.
 By the Associated Press.
 CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Not since the Leopold-Loeb hearing has a murder trial brought out such crowds as that of Dr. Amante Rongetti. Hundreds of persons milled about Judge Comerford's courtroom yesterday. Men, women and girls jammed the stairways. It was necessary to call out riot squads to clear the corridors.
 Testimony of Miss Lorraine Irwin, a former nurse in Dr. Rongetti's hospital, where he is charged with having performed an illegal operation which caused the death of Miss Loretta Elders, was the magnet yesterday.
 The nurse, who told Judge Comerford earlier this week she would rather go to jail than testify because she feared for her life, changed her viewpoint after the Court promised protection.
 She said William Scott Stewart, a doctor, threatened her.
 Another witness was William Cozzi, young dental student, who said he and the girl were in love and intended to be married as soon as he could afford it.
 The State told the jury in opening statements that it would demand the death penalty.
LENGTH OF SKIRTS REGULATED
 German Official Sets Minimum Eight Inches Below Knees.
 By the Associated Press.
 BERLIN, Feb. 24.—Women employed in the Government postal, telephone and telegraph services must wear uniform skirts extending at least eight inches below the knees. The order has been issued by Dr. Walther Schaezel, Minister of the Interior.
 The Federation of Women Postal and Telegraph employees objects that the order is neither in accord with the times nor practicable. Employees must pay for the uniforms out of their own pockets.
 Dr. Schaezel comes from Bavaria, where the clergy is particularly hostile to the dress of the modern woman.
Ex-Wife of Sunday's Son Loses Suit
 Special to the Post-Dispatch.
 LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 24.—
 Mrs. Olive Day has obtained a $10,000 judgment against Mrs.
 Millicent Sunday, former wife of "Billy" Sunday Jr., for alienation of the affections of her husband, George E. Day, once a Los Angeles policeman. The ex-wife of the evangelist's son did not contest the case, which was decided in favor of Mrs. Day after she told Superior Judge Sproule of finding her husband and Mrs. Sunday in a mountain cabin.

BILL FOR FIVE MISSOURI TOLL
BRIDGES GOES TO PRESIDENT
 Spans Proposed at Washington, Hermann, Liberty Landing, Arrow Rock, Miami.
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Bills granting the right to erect toll bridges over the Missouri River at five points in Missouri, which had been passed by the House, were approved by the Senate yesterday.
 They now go to President Coolidge for signature.
 Locations of the bridges and names of the permittees follow:
 Washington, Franklin County; Hermann, Boone County;
 Liberty Landing, Clay County, near Independence, Centennial Bridge Co.; Arrow Rock, Saline County, F. C. Barnhill; Miami, Saline County, Frank M. Burrous.
 The projects at Hermann, Arrow Rock and Liberty Landing are fostered by E. M. Elliott of Chicago, a promoter backed by a large New York firm. He has said he would not consider the Washington project because of river conditions there. Whether he is interested in the one at Miami has not been learned.

PLAN FOR JOINT STREET CAR
AND BUS TRANSFERS ADOPTED
 Companies Make Arrangement for Kingshighway Territory, Subject to Approval.
 An arrangement for reciprocal acceptance of transfers from street cars and busses benefiting those going to the southwest part of the city, has been informally agreed upon by the Public Service Co.
 and the Peoples' Bus Co.
 The arrangement applies only on Kingshighway between Southwest and Chouteau avenues. Street car riders may transfer to the bus at either of these points and back to another car, if they wish, and bus passengers may transfer to street cars at either terminus.
 The plan will be submitted to the Board of Public Service, which is expected to approve it. The financial arrangement between the companies has not been announced, but an additional charge for a transfer to the bus from the street car is to be expected.

NAVY CUT MEANS MORE SHIPS LATER WILBUR DECLARES

184 Vessels Every 5 Years for Replacements Will Be Needed, Is His Comment on Program for 16.

COMMITTEE VOTES AGAINST HIS PLAN

$274,000,000 Estimated as Cost of 15 Cruisers and One Aircraft Carrier Recommended.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur declined today to comment on the action of the House Naval Affairs Committee in cutting his recommendations for 11 new warships to 16 ships, one an aircraft carrier, except to say that if the navy attempted to replace its tonnage ship by ship the day of averages would require the construction of 184 vessels instead of the 71.

He explained that the average life of a warship was 20 years and under that rule 184 vessels would be necessary every five years to replace one-fourth of the navy's total of 716 vessels.

Assistant Secretary Warner, in charge of naval aviation, expressed surprise that the committee so regarded the importance of cruisers as to place them on a 15 to 1 ratio with aircraft carriers. He said he was chagrined that he had failed to make the committee realize the importance of aircraft in naval development.

$274,000,000 Cost Estimate.

Wilbur had urged the committee to approve a building program of 25 cruisers, five aircraft carriers, nine destroyer leaders, and 22 submarines, representing the program as having the backing of President Coolidge. Chairman Thomas S. Butler of the committee estimated the committee's program would cost $274,000,000, compared with $140,000,000 for the administration's plan, both figures excluding the increase in aircraft and personnel for which the additional ships would call.

The committee refused to provide for submarines, turning a deaf ear not only to the naval secretary, but also to an emphatic protest by one of its own members. Representative McClintic (Dem., Okla.) said.

Regarding destroyer leaders, the committee said the Navy Department had not as yet requested funds for the remaining 12 of a large number of destroyers authorized under the 1916 building act. Specifies Time Limit for Work.

The committee provided that 15 cruisers be started within three years and completed within six; that an aircraft carrier be started within two years; that each year the navy request Congress for funds to carry out the construction and that a failure of Congress to provide funds in any year would not cause authorization for the construction to lapse.

Representative Britton (Rep., Illinois), said these provisions would insure the building of the ships and prevent them from becoming a "paper fleet."

Wilbur had requested that the no specific time limit be set for completion of the ships and President Coolidge subsequently was represented as concurring in that recommendation.

The committee adopted a provision that in the event of an agreement for further limitation of naval armament by international conference to which the United States is a signatory power, the President would be authorized and empowered to suspend in whole or in part any of the naval construction authorized under the act.

Plans for Salvage Ships.

After considerable discussion of salvage ships, the committee voted to direct the naval secretary to prepare plans and costs of such ships and submit them for consideration. These ships would be of use for both submarines and other sea disasters.

Representative Vinson of Georgia, Democratic leader on the committee, said the 15 cruisers would be a total tonnage in this class of 265,000 tons, approximately the amount proposed in the original American Geneva proposal.

The aircraft carrier would be of 23,000 tons displacement as compared with the 23,000-ton displacement of each of the two new carriers, Lexington and Saratoga.

Butler, Vinson and a number of other committee members predicted the 16-ship program would be approved by the House, although it is uncertain when the subject will be called up on the floor.

Mayor Thompson at White House.

The committee refused to provide for submarines, turning a deaf ear to the navy's new proposal. It also to an emphatic protest by one of its own members. Representative McClintock (Dem., Okla.) said:

"Regarding destroyer leaders, the committee said the Navy Department had not as yet requested funds for the remaining 12 of a large number of destroyers authorized by the act of 1916. The committee provided that 15 destroyers be started within three years and completed within six; that an aircraft carrier be started within two years; that each year the navy request Congress for funds to carry out the construction and that a failure of Congress to provide funds in any year would prevent the building of the ships and not cause authorization for the construction to lapse.

Representative Britton (Rep.), Illinois, said these provisions would leave the building of the ships and prevent them from becoming a paper fleet."

Plans for Salvage Ships.
After considerable discussion of salvage ships, the committee voted to direct the naval secretary to prepare plans and costs of such ships and submit them for consideration. These ships would be of use for both submarine and other sea disasters.

Representative Vinson of Georgia, Democratic leader on the committee, said the 15 cruisers would give a total tonnage in this class of 305,000 tons, approximately the amount proposed in the original Atlantic Geneva proposal.

OFFICER OF COAL COMPANY REFUSES TO ANSWER SENATOR

Subcommittee, Visiting Pittsburgh Strike Area, Meets Opposition in its Investigation.

By the Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 24.—In investigating the bituminous coal mining situation in the Pittsburgh district, the subcommittee of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today met its first setback when an officer of the Pittsburgh Coal Co. refused to answer a question as to the cost of producing coal.

At the Moon Run mine of the company, the Senators met H. M. White, division manager for the concern. When Senator Wheeler of Montana, asked: "How much does it cost to get out coal?" White replied: "I refuse to answer." He maintained his position throughout the questioning.

Asked by Senator Gooding of Idaho, chairman of the subcommittee, if he could answer the questions, White said, "Yes, but I don't care to." Senator Wheeler then said, "You know that the Senate will require an answer," and White replied, "We will be ready to give it to you."

"Why do you hesitate to answer me?" asked Senator Wagner of New York. White explained that the Senate will require an answer, and White replied, "We will be ready to give it to you."

Repeats Refusal to Answer.
White reiterated his refusal to answer, and Senator Gooding ended the incident by saying, "We accept it."

Later Senator Wheeler said it was probable contempt proceedings would be instituted if the desired information was not forthcoming when called for by the full committee in hearings at Washington.

Sergeant M. M. Akers of the coal and iron police and C. A. McDowell, safety department, Pittsburgh Coal Co., were questioned by the Senators at Moon Run. The Sergeant was not certain as to his power under his State Commission as a coal and iron policeman for the company. He believed he could suppress acts of violence whether they occurred on or off company property. He denied that any of his police carried shotguns on the highways and searched the occupants.

Asked if the coal and iron police were given tear gas bombs to disperse crowds, McDowell was silent. He said the police received guns, but were not armed with submachine guns.

The committee today heard of the activities of coal and iron police, who, under State Commissions, are employed by coal companies. James Dinsdale, a union picket, told the Senators the police were a "menace to the public."

He charged they incited Negro non-union miners to riot and violence against union miners, and, in one instance, he alleged the Negro non-union workers had attacked a white woman. She died later, he said.

Says Police Threatened Him.
Dinsdale alleged the police make free use of their pistols and that they had threatened to kill him if he did not move off the picket line. He said that without provocation they would go out to the public highway, halt automobiles and search the occupants.

Tom Drexler, Constable at Moon Run, said he had tried to keep order in that mining community, but added it was impossible so long as the coal and iron police were around. He said the police refused to allow him to enter company property in the discharge of his duty.

The committee, consisting of Senators Gooding, Idaho, chairman; Pine, Oklahoma; Wagner, New York; and Wheeler, Montana, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday from Washington.

The committee visited barracks which house families of union members evicted from company houses and also went to mines of two corporations and questioned non-union miners.

Sanitary Conditions.
Sanitary conditions came in for a good share of attention as did the general economic situation in the camps and at the mines.

The wife of a non-union worker was asked as to her husband's pay. She said he earned from $30 to $40 every two weeks, and that a great portion of this was spent at the company store. A miner complained bootleggers infested some of the camps and that the workers were not given full credit for their work.

The committee heard charges of brutality on the part of coal and iron police, employed as guards on Federal state commissions. Mrs. Clara Englar, mother of four children, said she was beaten and kicked by these police when she recently went to investigate some shooting near her house.

REED CONDEMNS LAWS THAT INVADE FIELD OF MORALS

Senator, in Speech at Denver, Declares People Will Not Obey Act That Is Not Respected.

DEPLORES LOSS OF STATE'S RIGHTS

Renews Attack on Republican and League — Urges Return to Democratic Doctrine.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DENVER, Feb. 24.—Speaking to a crowd that almost filled the big municipal auditorium here, last night, Senator James A. Reed of Missouri attacked the Republican party and numerous of its outstanding members and appealed "for the return of honesty in government and for the restoration of the old Democratic doctrine."

Here are some of the highlights of his speech:

"I contend the most important question before the American people is to drive the Republican party from power; to take this government out of the hands of bootleggers, grafters and lobbyists and to place its control once more in the hands of the American people."

"The fathers never dreamed of a situation such as now confronts us. The civil list of the Federal Government embraces over $60,000,000 employees. There is scarcely a line of business that is not subjected to Federal espionage. Courts and quasi-courts, bureaus and departments pry into the business of private citizens. A great social and economic experiment, noble in motive and far reaching in purpose. It must be worked out constructively."

"How much the same vein, but in varying words, Curtis and Willis made their earlier responses to the Borah questionnaire. Willis, who has Hoover's candidacy to contend with, has now said beside Hoover's before Ohio voters. The Senator had told Borah he favored pledging the Republican party and its presidential candidates to 'vigilant, faithful and effective enforcement.' Curtis shares that sentiment, but he and Borah refrained from comment on Secretary Hoover's reply."

Says 80 of New York's 90 Votes Will Be for Hoover.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Ogden L. Mills, Undersecretary of the Treasury, declared yesterday that a check by supporters of Herbert Hoover for the Republican nomination for the presidency shows that 80 of the 90 delegates to the State candidates for delegates to the Kansas City convention favor the Secretary of Commerce.

Mills declared that at least 80 of New York's 90 delegates would be for Hoover at the convention. The prediction was made following a conference of Hoover supporters in the New York City headquarters.

The New York Times reported today the list of organizations candidates for delegates at-large includes Charles D. Hilles, vice chairman of the National Committee, State Chairman George K. Morris, Cornelius N. Ellis, James W. Fawcett, Representative Bertram M. Saxe, and Mrs. Charles H. Sabin and Miss Florence Wardwell.

Americans Contend Deceit Does Not Conform to Emergency
By the Associated Press.
BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 24.—The newspapers of Bogota are commenting unfavorably on the action of the United States Department of State asking American Minister Piles to take up informally with the Colombian Government the recently enacted law governing oil operations. They hint that this is an invasion of the sovereign rights of Colombia.

There are persistent reports that a group of wealthy Colombian landowners are planning a petition against the executive decree of Jan. 25, interpreting the emergency law. Representatives of American companies engaged in drilling for oil deny a statement issued in New York quoting Minister of Industries Montalvo as saying their companies have accepted the conditions of the decree. They say they will fight the law to the bitter end.

The Americans contend the decree does not conform to the emergency law in that the emergency law grants the drilling companies six months to present proofs of ownership while the executive decree cuts this time in half and specifies if drilling permits are not obtained within 20 days the authorities may seize the properties of the companies. The Americans also assert the decree imposes fines and imprisonment for violations which were not provided for in the emergency law.

Secretary Joins Senators
Curtis and Willis in Declaring for Eighteenth Amendment.

NEW YORK RATED FOR CALIFORNIAN

80 of State's 90 Delegates Will Support His Candidacy, Ogden L. Mills Declares After Check.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Senator Borah (Rep.) of Idaho, who took upon himself to find out for the voters how presidential candidates stand on prohibition, now has answers from three of them, all pretty much alike.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover has joined two other Republican candidates, Senators Willis of Ohio, and Curtis of Kansas, in expressing his opinion that the prohibition amendment should not be repealed, and that the law should be vigorously enforced.

This enforcement, Hoover added, should also be efficient and sincere and in his reply to Borah said any President must, under his oath, pursue that course. He appended this observation:

"Our country has deliberately undertaken a great social and economic experiment, noble in motive and far reaching in purpose. It must be worked out constructively."

"How much the same vein, but in varying words, Curtis and Willis made their earlier responses to the Borah questionnaire. ## Germany Not Yet Used To Its Republican Clothes, Says Dr. Emil Ludwig

No Return to Monarchy and No Wars of Revenge, German Literary Lion Declares in Lecture.

By FREDERICK H. BRENNAN.
DR. EMIL LUDWIG, a literary lion who roars in a sweet tenor voice of small volume, entertained his admirers last night at United Hebrew Temple, 225 South Skinner road, with a lecture on "Bismarck and the German Republic."

The noted German biographer proved a striking demonstration of his own thesis, namely, that the important figures of earth are quite humanly fallible once you get to know them. This gentle, amiable writer who made Napoleon, Bismarck and Kaiser Bill live in the light of their littleness as well as their greatness, was himself no overwhelming figure on the platform.

It is doubtful that he was heard beyond the tenth row, and his struggles with English pronunciation were valiant, but generally ineffectual. He read from a manuscript and those who had followed the newspapers at all closely knew he was repeating word for word the same lecture he delivered at Washington Feb. 6. St. Louis auditors however are habitually wiser and pay $2 each to see a certain number of literary lions each season, would resent any deprivation, and usually go away convinced of having got their money's worth.

Germany Neutral in Next War.
Dr. Ludwig's message was urbane and optimistic. He told his audience that all goes well with the German Republic, that in the next European war, "which will not come for some years," Germany will be neutral; that Germany expects to pay her war indemnities if possible, and that there will be no return of the monarchy to Germany. He said that Germany is unthinkable and only shouted "in speeches by wild young university students."

"It takes a long time to educate a nation," he observed, "especially if that nation must educate itself. Germany comes slowly to republicanism. It took us nine years to allow tankards to enter. Under the Linden in Berlin by the center archway which under the empire was reserved for the Kaiser exclusively. The German peasant's ideal now is to have a trashed King for a president. The typical German conception of republicanism might be summed up in a talk I had with one of my countrymen in a third-class railway carriage."

"He was smoking a cigar. I pointed to a sign and said 'Smoking is against the rules.' My countryman replied 'Oh, we have a republic now. I can smoke anywhere.' After four hundred years of monarchy we were not ready to rule ourselves. But we are definitely committed to the republican form of government."

Republic Forced on People.
Discussing the establishment of the German republic, Dr. Ludwig pointed out, "Even during the revolution the most radical Socialists had no idea of a republic. But that was forced upon us by the complete decay of the ruling classes. Twenty-two ruling families owned half the land in Prussia. It was a reign of general decay. Germans were obliged to come to the conclusion that he who will not defend his position should not deserve to rule. A bit bewildered by republicanism, Germans point to President von Hindenburg and say, 'Since the Kaiser's old field Marshal has sworn allegiance to the new constitution it must be all right.' Hindenburg will be re-elected. President as long as he lives, I think."

"Many matters must still be adjusted. The question of reparations needs further consideration. Your Parker Gilbert has been of great help to Germany, and when he told the German Government it must economize in order to pay its debts his advice was heeded unanimously. The German Government must be further centralized; instead of having 29 different parliaments with separate budgets, a centralized government would handle the affairs of the country far more economically. Germany will fulfill her obligations."

Some Financial Hurdles.
"But how the big sums in reparations payments are to be transferred without affecting the national exchange is Parker Gilbert's secret. How Germany is to export products on her reparations account without competing with American producers is a question for the spirit of Wall Street to answer. Criticism of our expenditures for universities, our unemployment pensions and renewals of our industrial equipment have been voiced, but I think they are unjustified. We have no Rockefeller and Carnegies to give money to education. It is better to have unemployment pensions than a revolution, and our factories cannot produce without renewals of equipment."

Germany are learning political responsibility. The lecturer said, and there are no signs of a return of the monarchy. "The people in the smaller cities miss their Princes," Dr. Ludwig remarked. "They liked the show and the wars of revenge. In the next European war which I do not expect for some years, Germany will be neutral. She will be neutral because she has no king to declare war, her workmen are discharged pacifists, and she knows that even victory is costlier than peace."

Bismarck's Doctrine Survives.
In discussing Bismarck and his relation to the present German republic, Dr. Ludwig sought to show how Bismarck's policies might have saved the World War and how his doctrine of internal development and strength is being followed by the German republicans.

"The foundation of the World War was laid in 1890," he declared. When the young Kaiser dismissed Bismarck and refused to renew the treaty with Russia, Bismarck had been in favor of that treaty because it kept Germany's powerful neighbors, Russia and France, separated. When the Kaiser failed to renew the Russian treaty Russia immediately allied herself with France. Bismarck was in favor of uniting the German nation and developing her power within her own borders. The Kaiser was for an empire stretching to Bagdad. Bismarck opposed colonies and naval expansion; the Kaiser wanted colonies and a big navy. Bismarck made treaties; the Kaiser made speeches. The Franco-Russian alliance brought Germany's neighbors together in a pact which created the situation that led to the World War. Germany's justification is that of a strong nation misled by her rulers."

Literary Plans Secured.
Dr. Ludwig, accompanied by his wife, arrived here yesterday afternoon from Florida. They are at Hotel Statler. Interviewers who came to ask Dr. Ludwig a few questions about his projected biography of an American, his views of American character and impressions of his visit to this country found him in an enigmatic mood. He said his publisher would not allow him to name the American whose life he has written; that he intended to write his ideas about American character for a newspaper syndicate and as for his impressions: "Those I shall write myself."

He discussed in generalities his biographical method. "I fall in love with my characters," he said. "It is a labor of love. I try to present them as they are. I try to make them human. But after I have had this love affair with my character I get too much of him. I hate him. That is why I do not think I shall ever write about a lovely woman. I do not want to be disillusioned."

"Aren't you ever going to write the biography of a great woman?" he was asked.

"My wife is against it," Ludwig replied.

He wanted to see Col. Lindbergh when here, but explained with a sad shrug, "He fly away, I shall pursue him."

Dr. Ludwig will return to his home in Switzerland after two more weeks of lecturing.

WALSH AND BORAH LIKELY TO ASK FOR MYERS' REMOVAL

Senators to Confer With Full Judiciary Committee in Regard to Moving for Impeachment.

WOULD PUT ISSUE BEFORE HOUSE

Federal Trade Commissioner Stands Accused of Perjury in Bread Trust Case.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Steps looking toward the impeachment of Federal Trade Commissioner Abram F. Myers as a result of his testimony in the Senate investigation of the Bread Trust case will be discussed within the next few days by Senators Borah and Walsh, who comprise a majority of the subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee which took Myers' testimony and the testimony of others in the matter.

On the face of the record, Myers now stands accused of perjury by Federal Judge Morris A. Soper of Baltimore, whose testimony is fully or partly corroborated by that of several other witnesses. The question of which Walsh and Borah will confer is whether to ask the full Judiciary Committee to submit the record to the House of Representatives, where all impeachments must originate.

Senate's Only Recourse.
It admitted that the procedure would be unusual, and it is possible that the full Judiciary Committee might, as for a German war of revenge. In the next European war which I do not expect for some years, Germany will be neutral. She will be neutral because she has no king to declare war, her workmen are discharged pacifists, and she knows that even victory is costlier than peace."

As has been explained, the Federal Trade Commission filed a complaint in 1925, under the anti-trust laws, against the Continental Baking Co., which had acquired control of 25-baking firms. While the complaint was pending, the Continental joined several other holding companies in a far greater merger, whereupon, the Department of Justice filed suit to dissolve both mergers. Myers, then assistant Attorney-General, represented the Government in the suit. Subsequently he entered into a deal with the defendants, whereby they agreed to abandon the second merger, and the Continental was given immunity for the first.

A consent decree was drawn up dissolving the second merger. However, paragraph 12 contained the statement that the suit was dismissed as to the Continental because other proceedings were pending against it before the Federal Trade Commission.

Myers knew of dismissal.
The decree was presented to Judge Soper in Baltimore April 2, 1926, and signed by him. As a matter of fact, the Federal Trade Commission had dismissed its complaint the previous day, and Myers knew it. He has testified before a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee that he informed Judge Soper that the complaint had been dismissed, and that paragraph 12 accordingly was in error. Judge Soper later asserts that Myers never mentioned it.

The result of the dismissal of the complaint one day and of the suit the next day was to give the Continental complete immunity, of which it had made such good use that up to this time it had acquired a total of 96 bakeries, thus, according to Senators Walsh and Borah, threatened a bread monopoly.

Yesterday afternoon's hearing was conducted by Borah and Senator Deneen of Illinois. Deneen has persistently championed Myers during the investigation, and his attitude yesterday was virtually that of a defense attorney.

E. S. District Attorney Testifies.
Among those examined yesterday were a number of attorneys who were present when the decree was signed. The first witness was

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in the career of the Post-Dispatch. It will always fight for progress or reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of the people, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Battle-Scarred Norris for President.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

WHY does not organized labor organize politically? Will it continue to support a party that is constantly issuing and enforcing injunctions which deprive labor of its constitutional rights and hinder it greatly? It is very apparent there is an "organized" movement of employers to break down and disrupt organized labor. The injunction is a very effective weapon.

Why does not labor elect men to office whom it knows are friends of labor? Labor surely recognizes its friends in Congress. Norris, La Follette and their progressive associates are fighting the battles of labor. At present, Shipstead has an anti-injunction bill pending in the Senate.

Labor leaders are not expecting the support of the G. O. P. regulars, the men whom labor voted for, but are sure of the support of the progressive group. Why does not labor organize a progressive labor party and elect clean, honest men? Let us have such a party and elect the "working man's friend," the battle-scarred Senator Norris for president.

Making the Angels Weep.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
WE learn that the Judges of the St. Louis Circuit Court are reported to have agreed—with one exception—to wear uniform black robes and that the practice will be inaugurated with the opening of the new Civil Courthouse.

The reason given for this novel departure from state court customs is described as a general lechery in respect for the courts by attorneys and litigants, which it is hoped will be remedied by the robes as symbols of authority and an indication of the Judges' (exalted) position.

Under the foregoing circumstances, one is hardly to be blamed for reaching the conclusion that the reasons given for the wearing of the robes are somewhat far-fetched and flimsy, and the real reason is not far removed from the change of environment. Judges, like everybody else, are human, and with more elaborate and luxurious surroundings there is the inevitable tendency towards "doling" themselves up in habiliments in keeping with same, and thus attired, to acquire a deeper sense of one's own importance. It seems to me that that unexcelled delineator of human weaknesses and passions, William Shakespeare sensed this idea and gave admirable expression to it in these lines:

"But man, proud man,
Drest in a little brief authority,
Plays such fantastic tricks before high heaven
As make the angels weep."

Common Sense and Street Car Exits.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE street car company wants us to say which we like better, the back door exits we have now or the front door exits we used to have. As I see it, this is too easy. That is, do people move through the faster when they are going the same direction the car is going, or do they go through faster when they are going one way and the car the other? It ought not to be hard to answer that. All you have to do is to try it. When you go with the car you have to slow down by holding to the seats. When you go against it you work as if you were going uphill. By the time you get to the rear you are too much out of breath to ask what the fare is today.

OLD TIMER.

The Cause of Unrest and Crime.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

ONE reason for so much crime is the way employers treat a man when he asks for work. They are so superior. I have two men in my family that have been everywhere but cannot get work. My son is only 19 but was willing to try anything that will keep him off the street and help his mother, who is employed, but he can get nothing. No one will talk to him. Now if he meets up with bad company, what will happen? Idle hands make mischief. He is a good boy and he doesn't drink now, but one never can be sure when he will meet someone who will entice him to do so. Then other bad habits start. That is why I say unemployment is the answer to unrest. Give them work. That's all they need. Then they will not have time for evil ways.

"Adequate National Defense."

J. T. R. has certainly struck the vital spot regarding the leading policy of the United States in the matter of competitive naval armaments. How consistently we follow this policy at the same time that we are suggesting to the world the scrapping of submarines, and entering into arbitration pacts in which we the first time in history the phrase "outwary of war" (as a national policy) is used, as was done recently in our treaty with France.

If we must submit to this enormous tax for the next twenty years for "adequate national defense," what could be more urgent and essential "adequate national defense" than flood control of our own Mississippi River?

RAPID TRANSIT IN ST. LOUIS.

Because there has been no money in the city treasury with which to institute the rapid transit movement in St. Louis, this important development, which has been kicking around the city hall ever since Rolla Wells was Mayor, and the value of which to the city increases daily, has languished for almost an entire year.

Now that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is about to meet, Alderman Wimer, head of the Aldermanic Rapid Transit Committee, has revived the matter by introducing today an ordinance creating a Rapid Transit Commission. The ordinance carries an appropriation of $25,000 which we hope can be provided. We need to get rapid transit under way for two excellent reasons:

1. Because surface traffic, in which street cars east of Twelfth street have been slowed down to three miles an hour, no longer meets the requirements of a big city, and will, if persisted in, inevitably damage the great downtown business district and halt the growth of St. Louis.

2. Because rapid transit bears an important relation to the application of the street car system for a new franchise. That is, in the development of a modern transportation system in which subways are incorporated, the city will need the rights to its streets, which otherwise might be relinquished.

By the terms of Mr. Wimer's ordinance, the Rapid Transit Commission would be created to make a general survey of the city for the purpose of reporting to the Board of Aldermen on the practicability of rapid transit; to investigate various systems of rapid transit, including subways, surface lines and elevated lines, with a view to recommending the system best adapted to the needs of St. Louis; to designate the route of any rapid transit system recommended, to prepare plans for the installation of such a system, to estimate the cost, and to do all other necessary things, including the preparation of enabling legislation to be submitted to the Missouri Legislature, and the preparation of ordinances.

The Commission would be empowered to employ a paid secretary, engineers, surveyors, draftsmen and all necessary help. It would have an office in the City Hall. Members of the Commission would be the president of the Board of Public Service, an alderman to be designated by the Mayor, and three appointees by the Mayor, one of whom shall be an engineer, having at least 10 years' practical experience. The Mayor and the Comptroller would be entitled to be present at the commission meetings as ex-officio members, but would be entitled to vote only on questions involving the direct expenditure of city funds. The purpose of this restriction is to keep the commission's work in civilian hands and out of politics.

The Post-Dispatch has pointed out several times the great opportunity which Mayor Miller and his administration have in this matter of rapid transit. If they put the city hall behind it, as they should do with all possible speed, they can do for the city a constructive work to which there can hardly be anything comparable for years to come. St. Louis is in a period of transition from her old to her new self. She is one of the great American cities, and to hold her own with the communities of her class she will have to be as progressive as they are. It costs money to make a Chicago, a Detroit, or a Cleveland, every one of which has already turned or is fast turning to rapid transit, but it is the way of progress. No city can enjoy the wealth and power which great cities enjoy without doing as they do. To sit dreaming and content is to fall out of the running.

We are sure the people of St. Louis understand this. They know, as we do, that growth must come from within. What they need is leadership, and that is the opportunity of the Mayor. It will take several years to develop rapid transit and perfect plans to finance it. There is no time to be lost.

CONTRIBUTION TO THE ART OF BEING FRANK.

We quote, as today's best example of the art of being frank, from a letter written by Gifford Pinchot, foe of the Power Trust, to William E. Humphrey, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission:

In the recent debate over the power investigation, Senators whose judgment is entitled to respect repeatedly expressed the opinion that to expect any effective investigation of abuses in the electric industry by the Federal Trade Commission. Because of long personal experience with you as a bitter enemy of the Roosevelt conservation policy, an opponent of Federal action and a lobbyist for lumbermen, I am of the same opinion myself.

REED AND THE PRESS.

There is, on sober second thought, nothing very surprising about the fact that several of the great Eastern dailies have deplored the sort of attacks which Senator Reed is making on his present tour. The journals which are doing this are nearly all of the variety which were slow to appreciate the importance of the oil scandals and have not yet become aroused over other notorious cases of governmental debauchery.

This is not, to be sure, because they have respect for corruption per se. Nor is it largely because of partisan politics. A better explanation is the likelihood that they regard the issue of corruption of Government by vicious politics and unscrupulous plutocracy as a dangerous one, and are hence unable to see how any useful purpose could be served by giving it too much prominence. They are disinclined to rock the boat, even though the boat is seriously in need of being rocked until some pernicious parts of the cargo are pitched overboard. So they encourage the public's indifference toward matters which should be shouted from the house tops.

Perhaps this is why some of the Eastern journals compare the Missouri unfavorably to Gov. Smith. The latter, despite his almost scoldish reforms, has never angered or alienated plutocracy. He has never stressed the inevitable connection between wealth which has outgrown its legitimate place and sort of political depravity revealed by the cases of Fall, of Vale and of Smith.

Perhaps this is the wise course. Perhaps no statesman who deals with this great problem in a fundamental way may hope to attain the leadership of the nation. Perhaps, in order to gain entrance to the portals of power, a Democrat as well as a Republican must not alienate plutocracy, however anti-social that plutocracy may be.

But there are some Americans who will shrink from endorsing these possibilities. They will regard the price as too high. They will insist that the Democratic party ought to be a genuine opposition party. They will insist that the corruption of Government has proceeded to the point where it is time to light the fires on the hilltops.

To such Americans the campaign which Senator Reed is making will seem worthy of anything but the slightest treatment it is receiving from certain of our Eastern contemporaries.

MR. HOOVER IS DRY.

Replying to Senator Borah's questionnaire, Mr. Hoover says he is against repeal of the eighteenth amendment. He defines prohibition as "a great social and economic experiment, noble in motive and far-reaching in purpose," which "our country has deliberately undertaken." He concludes with the ultimatum "it must be worked out constructively."

This position will, we are sure, be satisfactory to Mr. Borah and to the Anti-Saloon League. Whether it will be satisfactory to neutral opinion on the question, if such neutrality exists, or to the opposition, is not so certain. Candid as the words are there is not, after all, so much content in them. To land prohibition is easy. To assert it must be enforced successfully is also easy. But how? "Aye, there's the rub." What plan has Mr. Hoover in mind for accomplishing the thing which is believed to be impossible by many citizens of worth, sincerity and knowledge?

We have no desire to heckle Mr. Hoover. We do not believe he should be required at this time to submit a studiously prepared program for prohibition enforcement. But the time is coming, and coming soon, when endorsement of this policy, with pledges of adherence to the law as law, will not suffice an informed and uneasy public opinion. Presently other questions will have to be answered. Such questions, for example, as Congressman La Guardia has already asked, and which he has suggested that Mr. Borah include in his examination of candidates. "How large an appropriation for enforcement would you as President approve? A hundred million? Two hundred million? More if necessary? How large an army would you as President be willing to employ to enforce this law?" Such questions pierce the realities of this grave and growing problem; they cannot much longer be evaded.

Mr. Hoover has met the political requirements of the minute. He has not met the desperate needs of the situation with statesmanlike proposal or recommendation. Nor has any other candidate.

THE QUEST FOR THE MISSING BONDS.

Yesterday Karl C. Schuyler admitted before the Senate Teapot Dome committee that his client, H. M. Blackmer, received $763,000 of the $3,089,000 profits of the notorious Continental Trading Co. The list of beneficiaries of these profits now reads as follows:

|                                                                                             |             |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| To ex-Secretary Fall from Harry Sinclair                                                    | $230,500   |
| To James E. O'Neill, one of the organizers of the Continental, a fugitive from the subpoena | 783,000     |
| To the Republican National Committee to pay off debts of Harding campaign fund              | 25,000      |
| To H. S. Oiler, who acted as president of the dummy corporation, for legal services         | 61,600      |
| To H. M. Blackmer, another organizer, also a fugitive from the subpoena                     | 783,000     |
|                                                                                             | $1,843,100 |

This leaves $1,236,900 unaccounted for to date.

SECRETS WILBUR'S BIG NAVY DISSOLVES.

The greater part of Secretary Wilbur's proposed supervisory dissolved into mist yesterday when the House Naval Committee decided to authorize the construction of 15 cruisers and one aircraft carrier. The cost of this program is estimated at $274,000,000 and the time set for its completion is six years. Secretary Wilbur wanted 71 new war vessels, to cost approximately $740,000,000, as part of a 20-year naval program. The 71 ships were to be contracted for in five years, though no time was set for their completion. The committee cut the cruiser item from 25 to 15, and the aircraft carrier item from five to one. It refused altogether nine destroyer leaders and 32 submarines. Perhaps it took into account the fact that in destroyers and submarines, the United States already leads the world.

This paring down of the Navy Department's extravagant and impolitic demands will have a reassuring effect on international opinion. Secretary Wilbur's plans have aroused great disturbance. Their consummation would mean that our navy, which has no superior and only one equal, would be by far the largest in the world. It would open a new era of frenzied naval competition, a competition which the United States itself has endeavored to end. Such a navy would be a breeder of distrust and jealousy, and possibly of wars.

But for the ineptness of our diplomats at the Geneva conference of last year, and, indeed, but for the very act of calling a conference which was marked for disaster from the very beginning, it is unlikely that the Wilbur big navy program would ever have been offered. As it is, we think Congress has too much good sense to be rushed into rash action by Secretary Wilbur and a coterie of professional sailors looking for ships to command. The program of the House Naval Committee, if authorized by Congress, is more in harmony with our navy's natural needs. We should not be surprised to find that, if and when it reaches its final form, it will be pared even further.

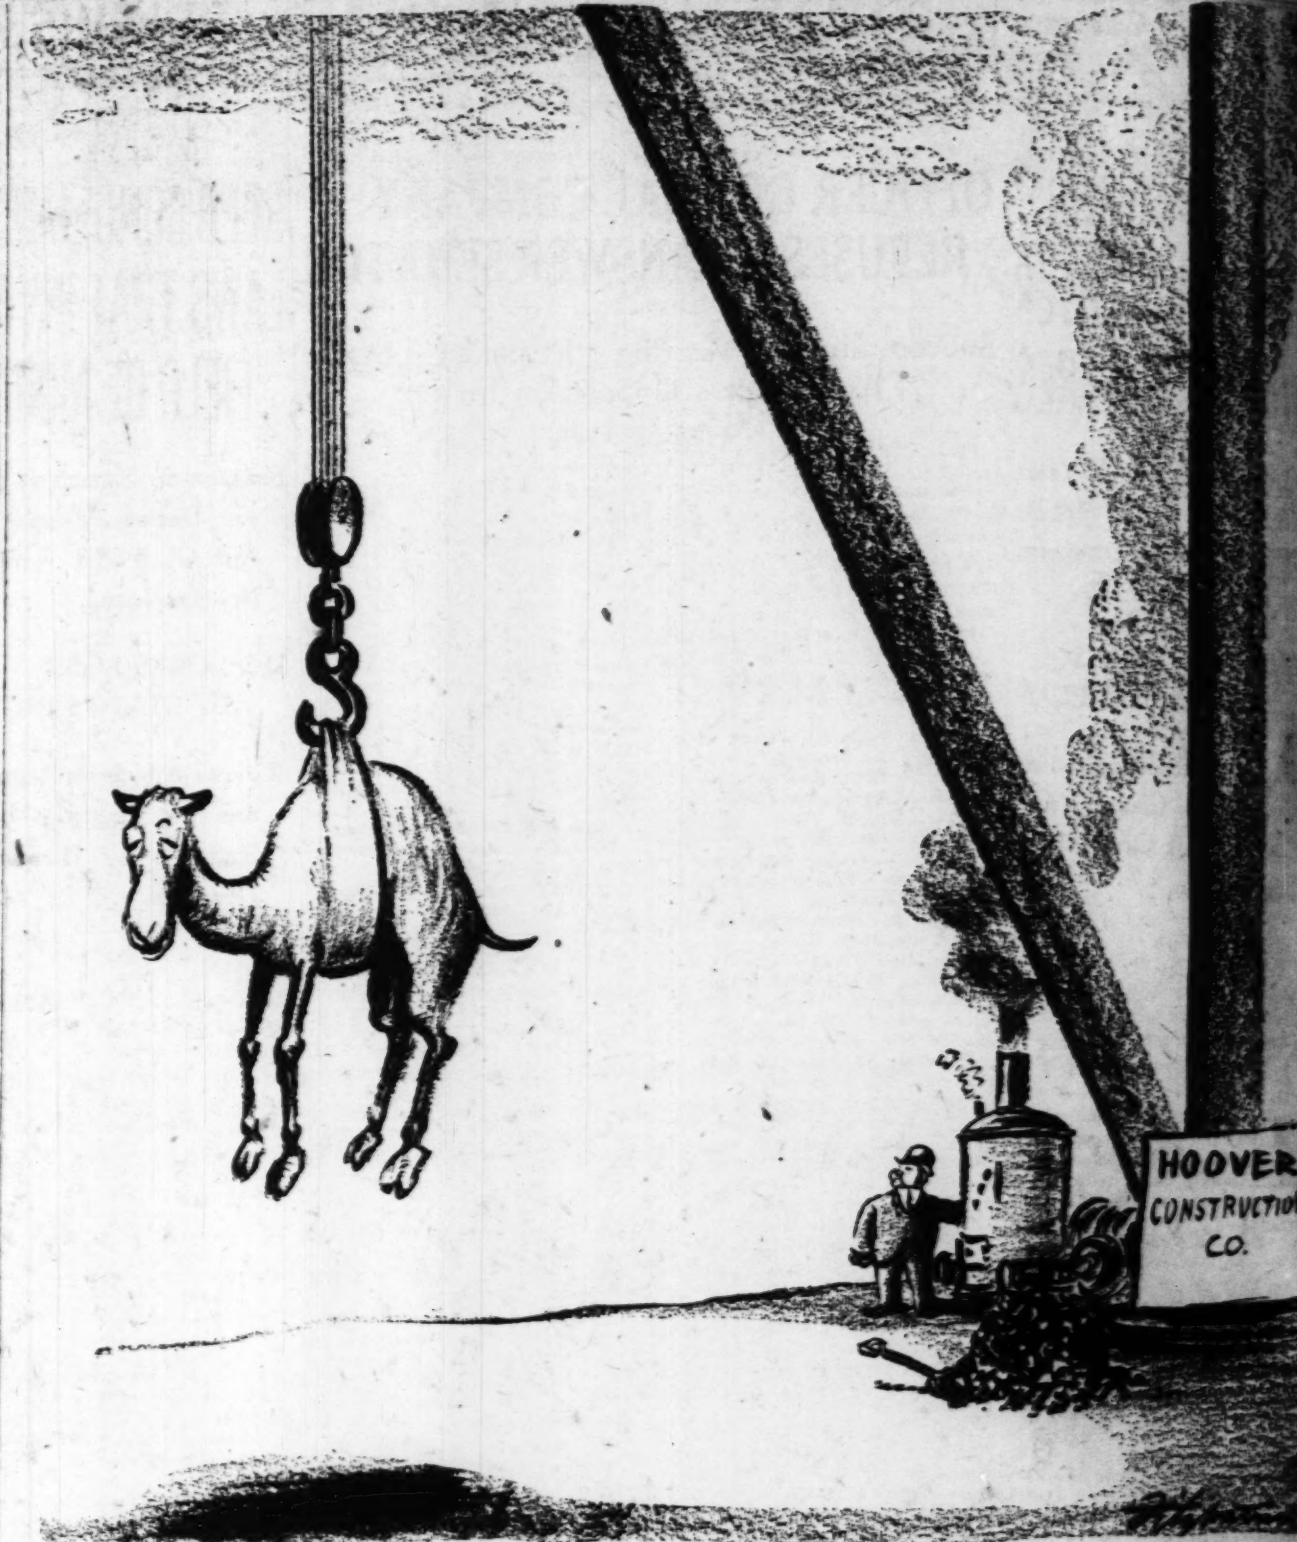

How about changing Chicago's name to Bombay?

JUROR KIDWELL AND JURY SERVICE.

As things have turned out, Juror Kidwell will likely have to ride in a Ford. He will not get the long automobile he might have had if he had not talked too much. The vision of Juror Kidwell haughtily toiling along Pennsylvania avenue in a long-nosed Rolls-Royce fades out.

In a way, it is too bad. Juror Kidwell was about to dignify what is perhaps the most ignoble pastime in the United States—that is, jury service. The occasional enthusiasm of aesthetes, or people who wear a hair shirt and want an onion for Christmas, jury service as Kidwell conceived it developed potential riches. It promised escape from the austere duties that have made it dreaded, and displayed the exotic quality of opulence.

This was not, of course, in the spirit of Magna Charta. It was, however, in harmony with our luxurious age. There is talk of doing away with juries. Before we do that it may be a good idea to seek for some middle ground between what Sinclair was to make them mean to Kidwell and what they mean at the moment to mean to us.

The Walsh Public Utility Resolution

An Expression of Opinion on the Significance of Its Defeat From Maine, Whose Enormous Potential Power Resources Are Now Being Developed and Exploited by the Insult Interests.

From the Portland Evening News

THE defeat in the United States Senate of a proposed investigation by that body of public utility corporations, is an event that bears directly on the welfare and on the daily life of virtually every American family.

The resolution introduced by Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, a public servant of outstanding ability, integrity and courage, was beaten after a three days' legislative battle by an alignment in which party lines were utterly disregarded.

Referring the investigation to the Federal Trade Commission merely added a touch of hypocrisy to the whole proceeding. Every one knows—and none sought seriously to deny—that that body as now constituted will investigate nothing, seek nothing, discover nothing.

The lesson of what has happened in Washington should not be lost on the people of Maine. They STILL, for the moment at least, have a finger—if not a hold—on the energy which is produced by their rivers, by the waterfalls, which nature has bounteously supplied and which will flow interminably throughout the ages.

That section of the Power Trust which operates from Chicago has reached into Maine to control most of the State's power sites. It controls some of the State's "public" servants. It controls some of its organs of "public" opinion. But it is still somewhat subject to the State's control, as long as the law which prevents the export of Maine's power stands.

Abrogate that law—and the day that the first kilowatt of Maine-produced energy crosses the State boundary, all of Maine's hydro-electric power passes from State to Federal control. Now we have seen—in Tuesday's vote in the Senate—who it is that exercises Federal control!

Once that law is rescinded—and the water will have spilled over the dam—it will be too late.

Is not the logical, the inevitable, and indeed the only conclusion that may be arrived at from the high-powered effort to throttle investigation at all costs, that something might be revealed which it was supremely to the interest of a few very "practical" men, operating behind the very few scattered bars of legal talent—a concealment?

No one who reads with an open mind the debate that took place on the floor of the Senate can well doubt that the lineup was clearly the financial interest of the very few against that of all the rest of the nation.

The Senators who were determined to kill investigation by referring the question to the Federal Trade Commission—a body which has admittedly been packed in the interest of the great combinations of business—had almost nothing to say. They had no arguments to offer. They had no public defense to make. Marshaled as if in response to orders quietly issued behind the scenes, they voted, and that was all.

WHAT would be the natural action of men whose consciences were clear, who felt that the Power Trust was rendering wholly a useful service to America who believed that its rates were equitable, who were convinced that its financial operations were above-board, and its participation in the political and economic life of the nation capable of withstanding daylight? First, they say so in clear-cut, unmistakable terms; second, in substantiation of their publicly voiced faith, to exhibit it by allowing the public to obtain a glimpse of what is after all very much, indeed wholly, a matter of public concern. But the Senators lined up for Power did no such thing. They acted as if they had received their orders, and were obeying them like good, faithful servants.

Of Making Man

JOHN G. NEIHAR

As the Tree Is,
So Is the Fruit

HEREDITY AND HUMAN AFFAIRS. By Edward M. East.
(Charles Scribner's Sons.)

EVER since people began to think at all they have been interested in discussing the influence of heredity and proposing plans for betterment. It is to this important subject that Edward M. East has contributed a sane and, as far as is humanly possible, unprejudiced consideration in his latest book entitled "Heredity and Human Affairs."

He endeavors to find the root of social troubles and offers no glamorous and easy cure for them. In fact, the reform suggested is somewhat staggering to the most optimistic. It is this: Apply the principles of eugenics to human life, for it is only from a good tree that one can expect to gather fine fruit.

This question of heredity, about which men from savage times to the present day have been much interested, is a subject that has given rise to a great many superstitions and misconceptions. Mr. East tries to give a scientific idea of the part played in the individual by his forbears.

He makes an introduction to the mechanics of genetics by a necessarily brief but clear description of the various types of reproduction, showing that the new being made by the union of two cells is what it is because of the genes found in the chromosomes of these parent cells. It is of great importance to note that the new creature is determined by its heritage of genes and cannot be any greater than the allow.

Those interested in the old question of heredity versus environment will find this point of view of significance. According to Mr. East—and his proofs which rest upon the physical basis of inheritance are quite conclusive—environment, while it does modify the individual to a certain degree, plays a very small part in proportion to that played by his ancestry. There have been abundant examples of the fact that it is hard to keep a good man down and it is impossible to make a great one from incompetent stock.

Therefore the whole emphasis of education must be upon the producing of satisfactory individuals. Though certain races seem mentally superior to others, it is foolish to judge man absolutely because of his inheritance, or the color of his skin. But it is possible to foretell to a fairly accurate degree whether he will be an addition or a hindrance to society by studying his ancestry. Like produces like.

MANTEL AT HIS BEST IN DRAMA OF "RICHELIEU"

Tragedian Gives Fine Performance of the Cardinal-Minister in Boulevard Lytton's Play.

Robert H. Mantell gave "Richelieu" last night at the American. The veteran actor excels in the role of the great Cardinal-Minister of France, who, entering upon duty, still bears within him crumbling frame the spark of great statesmanship. Sir Edward Bulwer-Lytton's verse sounds incredibly stilted like a man who, yet living, has already become a legend.

Shakespeare, but there is a certain lure about the sword and satrap's drama which will not down.

Mantell makes Richelieu seem like a man who, yet living, has already become a legend. A kind of disembodied spirit still hovering over the scene of past triumphs.

The Mantell company will return to Shakespeare tonight in "Macbeth."

MRS. ALLEN C. SMITH DIES

Former Ruth Little, Once Mardi Gras Queen, to Be Buried in City.

The funeral of Mrs. Allen Campbell Smith, who died Wednesday at her home near Colorado Springs, Colo., will be Monday afternoon at the home of a sister, Mrs. C. C. Scudder, on the Warren road, St. Louis County. Before her marriage, Mrs. Smith was Miss Ruth Little, a St. Louis debutante. In addition to her husband and Mrs. Scudder, Mrs. Smith is survived by three children, three other sons, Mrs. Gladys Carey, Mrs. Louis H. Ingraham and Mrs. Gertrude Donaldson and three brothers, Edward D., John J. and Walter F. Little.

Mrs. Smith had been in poor health for several years. Four years ago she was queen of the Mardi Gras festival in the New Orleans Mardi Gras festivities.

ST. MARY'S ALUMNI DINNER

Members of college alumni associations should display greater interest in moral and social questions of the country and give less time to mere social activities, the director of St. Mary's College (Kansas) Alumni Association, told 75 members of the St. Louis chapter at the annual dinner at the University Club last night.

"Preservation and elevation of the principles of the nation depend upon the interest taken in the national questions of the nation by the college men," Father Shyne said. Other speakers at the dinner were: Rev. Lawrence W. Smith, S. J., of St. Louis University, and Edward H. Hays, the oldest living alumnus of St. Mary's College.

PARK BEARS EAT IN WINTER

GLACIER PARK, Mont., Feb. 24.—Hibernating for the winter is too Victorian for the bears which in summer loiter about the chalets in Glacier Park. They answer the dinner bell in the cold months. There are six construction camps strung along a two-mile stretch of the transmountain road, and when the dinner bell calls workers to food, the bears come, too. They lope in tugboatously from all directions and as many as 21 have been counted at a time. While the men eat, the bears loaf around, and when the workers finish they always reward the bears with a tidbit.

WALSH AND BORAH

United States District Attorney Amos Woodcock. He was not positive that Myers had failed to give Judge Soper the fact of the commission's dismissal, but he was positive he did not hear it. Woodcock said the case was prepared entirely in the Department of Justice, and his connection with it had been largely formal. "Were you in the courtroom when the decree was entered?" asked Borah. "Yes, and I remember the proceedings distinctly." "You heard Myers present the matter to the Court?" "Yes, but as to just what he said my recollection is exceedingly dim. I refreshed my memory yesterday by reading the Baltimore Sun of the following day, however." Woodcock said that in December, 1924, following the entrance of the decree in April of that year, Myers called him on the telephone and asked him if he did not recall hearing Myers tell the Judge about the dismissal by the commission. That was the time at which Myers' conduct came under fire. Woodcock said he told Myers that he did not recall it.

He produced a clipping from the Sun of the day following the hearing, which said that "further proceedings against the Continental" were expected, noting that the decree itself "pointed out that proceeding against the Continental were still pending before the Federal Trade Commission." "Your recollection is then, that Myers did not tell Judge Soper that the proceeding against the Continental had been dismissed?" asked Borah. "Yes, and I must say that I myself did not know it had been dismissed, and then did not learn it at that time. I think it would have made an impression on my mind if I had heard of it." Charles McIntire Howard, one of the Continental lawyers and incidentally president of the Maryland Bar Association, said Judge Soper had read only three or four paragraphs of the decree when he announced that it contained findings of fact and that he could not sign it without taking testimony. Counsel pointed out, he said, that attached to the decree was a written agreement on the facts signed by both sides. Thereupon, he said, the judge inserted before the statements of facts the explanatory preface: "It appearing to the Court from the statement of counsel that—"

"I am sure," he said, "that he had not read as far as paragraph 13 and I know his interruption was not caused by reading it. "Did you hear Myers say anything about the dismissal of the commission's complaint?" "I do not recall anything being said about it."

"All One Way," Says Borah. Senator Densen, who brought the hearing has acted as defense counsel for Myers, asked if Howard had mentioned the dismissal to the Judge. Howard said he had not.

"You didn't feel that you were deceiving the court?" "No, nothing could have been further from my mind. I cannot conceive that Judge Soper would have allowed to sign the decree if he had known about the dismissal."

The testimony of Jesse N. Bowen, another of defense counsel, was considerably more emphatic.

"I heard Mr. Myers say nothing about the dismissal and it would take very strong positive testimony to convince me that he did say it."

Similar testimony was given by George W. Williams, another bakery attorney. He said he had no recollection of Myers mentioning the dismissal of the complaint.

This testimony speaks for itself," Borah remarked as the hearing adjourned. "It is all one way."

MORAL REALM

Hol. The first act of the Harding administration was to welcome its return. There it ever since has held undisturbed possession.

"In all the long years of the Coolidge administration not a single great trust has been dissolved by operation of law; not a single effective blow has been struck in favor of the liberation of the commerce of the nation from the control of those who have conspired in the teeth of the statutes of the land."

Attacks Mellon. Reed particularly attacked Mellon, Paul Harry M. Daugherty and poked ridicule at the pretended friendliness of Hoover and Lowden toward the farmers of the nation. He referred to Mellon as "standing astride the Government whilst the President seduced Yellowstone trout with worms, or studies the psychological effect of not choosing to run."

Taking a fling at the League of Nations, Reed declared "those who sought to establish the League of Nations sought to set up a world authority, which, had it fully functioned, would have controlled the destinies of all nations, save that of the masters of the League."

"Once established," he added, "such a power and outraged liberty will some day draw the rebellious sword."

Concluding his reference to the League he declared: "Democrats, we have been whipped twice on that battlefield and it is time for us to go out and win."

Silent on Eighteenth Amendment. Reed will not discuss the eighteenth amendment or the Volstead act during his pre-convention campaign. He made that plain on his arrival here when he declined to comment on the statement of Hoover endorsing the eighteenth amendment and pledging himself to strict enforcement of the dry law in the event of his nomination and election to the presidency.

"The prohibition question is a controversial one," said Reed. Both great political parties are divided evenly on the subject. I will confine myself to discussion of those issues on which our party is united and will leave alone all issues on which the party may be divided. We have plenty of issues on which we are agreed and there is no need to inject issues on which we cannot be united."

Report on East St. Louis Paving. East St. Louis completed $211,000 worth of pavements and sewers in 1927. City Engineer W. McK. Brown and Commissioner John T. Connors reported yesterday. The amount falls far below the $1,124,700 expended in 1926.

THREE MEN GET 30 DAYS FOR DRIVING WHILE INTOXICATED

$100 Fines Added to Workhouse Sentences; Fourth Let Off at $50.

Convictions against four men of driving while intoxicated were sustained on appeal by Judge Gayer in Court of Criminal Correction yesterday. Three defendants were given 30-day workhouse sentences and $100 fines, while the fourth, Fred R. Ehlers of 5620 Cote Brillante avenue, was let off with a $50 fine when it was shown that his intoxication was slight and that he had caused no damage before being arrested.

One of those receiving a workhouse sentence was Emil Schack, a driver, 48 years old, of 2206 Manchester road, St. Louis County, who was arrested Dec. 19, after he had broken a fire plug with his loaded coal truck. He admitted having had "one or two drinks" but explained he was ill at the time.

Emmett Praitte, a welder, of 4124 Burgin avenue, whose automobile figured in a collision on Kingshighway viaduct, Jan. 2, also was sentenced when witnesses testified he was zigzagging on the wrong side of the roadway, as was Charles Plages, 881 South Eleventh street, who was arrested Feb. 5, at Russell and Jefferson.

MARINES KILL THREE MORE OF SANDINO'S BAND

U. S. Force Also Reports Wounding of Five Nicaraguans in a Skirmish Near Telepaneca.

By the Associated Press.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 24.—For the second successive day, United States marines have emerged unscathed from an encounter with small bands which resorted to insurgent casualties. Three rebels were killed and five wounded in a skirmish yesterday near Telepaneca, 29 miles southeast of Ocotal. A marine patrol of 20 men under Lieut. John G. Walgren and a similar force of the Nicaraguan National Guard under Lieut. Donald engaged the band which was believed part of Gen. Sandino's now scattered forces.

Four insurgents were reported killed and several wounded in three encounters Tuesday in the Jinotega region.

There now are 1200 marines in addition to several hundred national guardsmen operating north of Esteli, while 1700 marines are based north of Somotillo and Matagalpa. These forces are engaged in strapping the surrounding country.

Marine airplanes from Jan. 1 to Feb. 13 made 557 flights of 731 flying hours, carrying 21,171 pounds of freight and 139 passengers. A new landing field has been opened at Apali in the department of Nueva Segovia, between San Fernando and Jinotega.

Many of the native newspapers are advocating a coalition candidate for the presidency on whom all factions might be able to unite, but United States officials here see little chance of such a solution of the problem.

Gen. Jose Maria Moncada already has been nominated by the Liberals and has started his campaign. The Conservatives have not yet selected their candidate. Americans see little likelihood of Gen. Moncada agreeing to abandon his candidacy under any circumstances in favor of a coalition candidate. Moncada has announced his intention of pushing his campaign and has expressed his belief that United States supervision of the election will insure fairness.

STEWART, BROWNIE SOUTHPAW, FIVE POUNDS UNDER BEST WEIGHT

HURLER HEAVIER THAN AT CLOSE OF LAST SEASON

Had Tough Battle With Appendicitis During Winter—Plenty of Competition for Infield Berths.

From a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 24.—Given up by a squad of doctors as a dead man, Pitcher Walter Stewart, probably the sole southpaw of the St. Louis Browns for 1928, today is hale and hearty and actually weighing more than he did when the baseball season of 1927 ended.

Old doctor appendicitis claimed Stewart for his own soon after the season ended and, from Nov. 10 until Dec. 15, 1927, his life was despaired of. At the last, he was unconscious for four days and the doctors in attendance said it was "the toss of a coin" whether or not he would be survived.

But, he did, thereby going against all medical and mathematical chances. He was ordered to remain quiet until after the first of the year but, before Christmas, went out hunting and bagged a half dozen foxes.

Weights 160 Pounds. Right now, on his second day in camp, Stewart weighs 160 pounds as against the 158 he weighed when the Browns brought their 1927 season to an unblemished end.

Stewart says his best pitching weight is 145 pounds. Four days under a baking Southern sun have worked wonders with the Browns. As a result Manager Howley's trouble is not to make his men practice enough, but to keep them from working too much.

Even the veteran pitchers, never too skittish in the early spring, are anxious to take their salary arms out of winter wrappings and out loose a bit. However, Howley and Jim Austin watch them carefully and all attempts to do more than lob the ball up to the plate in batting practice are frowned on.

Will Work On Sundays. Two things were for conditioning in the spring are a good ball park and plenty of sun. These things being true, the 1928 Browns should come North in better shape than ever before for the park is really the best appointed and best kept in the State and, as for the sun, it is ever present.

Everything is proceeding smoothly as per schedule. The usual program is a "pepper game" then batting practice and, finally, a bit of infield work in which special attention is given Kress and Brannon. Following this, the entire squad waddles around the park two or three times and another day of work is over.

Manager Howley has announced that there will be workouts, as usual on Sundays.

Plenty of Competition. It is probable that, before the 1928 infield is "set," there will be a merry battle between the candidates. There's Billy Mullen for instance. Mullen, due here Monday, was unable to play in a single game last year because he lost his knee in camp. He will fight out with Frank O'Rourke for that position. At second, Brannon will have Oscar Melillo as a rival, while it is hardly possible that Walter Gerber will give up the assignment at shortstop without some sort of a contest. Blue is conceded first base at first base, but Sturdy is too good an understudy to permit any losing on the part of the former Detroit Tiger.

There is no competition for five positions, or, rather for five places on the roster. There is no one to argue with Walter Schang. Steve O'Neill and Clyde Manush and Fred Schulte have a pair of the outfield positions clinched. Where the youngsters have a chance is in the infield, an open outfield space and in the box.

In the meantime, Howley seems happy with the progress made and declares himself delighted with the way the boys are going about their daily chores. And, at this stage of the proceedings, that's an encouraging report.

BALTIMORE PLAYERS ENTER SEMIFINALS IN U. S. HANDBALL TOURNAMENT

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 24.—Al Hobelman and George Nelson of Baltimore went into the semifinals of the National Y. M. C. A. handball tournament as a result of victories last night.

Hobelman, defending champion, defeated M. A. Bates of Columbus, O., 21-12, 21-6, while Nelson, national A. A. U. champion, took the measure of Eddie Donkin of Cleveland and Lloyd Walker of Toledo.

Otto Berg of Toledo and Joe Griffen of Detroit also went into the select circle. Berg defeated Stan Spiegel of Detroit in a close contest and Griffen eliminated Joe Goodreau of Cleveland.

Berg will engage Nelson in the semifinals today and Hobelman will meet Griffen.

Miss Wills Says She Does Not Want to See Another Ring Bout

Tennis Queen Declares Anyone Who Loves Net Sport as She Does Could Never Become Fight Fan After Witnessing Walker and Willis Match

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Miss Helen Wills, women's tennis champion, who attended the Mickey Walker-Jack Willis fight here Wednesday, made known today that she never wanted to see another ring battle.

"Unless," she added, "I might have the opportunity to see Mr. Tunney some day. I understand he boxes and does not fight. I think I might like that."

Miss Wills attended the bout after she received the approval of her parents that it was "perfectly all right for women to attend prize fights if they wanted to."

"The fight was very interesting," said Miss Wills. "But I do not want to go again. Tennis is the only game and I do not believe that anyone who really loves tennis like I do could ever become a fight fan. The two sports are so different it is hard to talk about them together."

St. Louis U. Nine In First Workout

12 Baseball Games Have Been Arranged for Blue and White Team.

St. Louis University's baseball squad worked out for the first time this season when Coach "Skip" Stivers put his battery men through limbering up exercises yesterday in the Billiken gymnasium.

Two weeks ago 30 men responded to the first call for candidates. Of this number seven are letter men. The veterans are Jordan and Uluko, catchers; O'Leary and Hanratty, infielders; Spaulding and Browning, outfielders, and Espinosa, a pitcher.

The Billikens open the season March 29, at St. Louis U. field, when the University of Chicago nine calls. The present schedule includes 12 games, six with Big Ten teams. The Blue and White will meet the Washington Bears in a three-game series and it is probable that the Billiken officials will extend the schedule by including a brace of games with Concordia Seminary. The Big Ten opponents will be Iowa, Northwestern, Wisconsin and Chicago. All four teams will meet the Billikens in St. Louis.

Return games will be played with the last two, the Billikens going to Madison and Chicago, May 8 and 9.

The schedule follows: March 29—Chicago U. here. March 31—Iowa U. here. April 7—Northwestern, here. April 14—Wisconsin, here. April 21—Quincy College, here. April 27—Washington U. here. April 28—Washington U. here. May 1—McKendree, at Lebanon, Ill.

May 4—Washington U. place to be decided. May 7—Quincy College, at Quincy, Ill. May 9—Wisconsin U. at Madison, Wis. May 9—Chicago U. at Chicago.

St. Louis U. High Remains in Hunt For Prep Honors

Junior Billikens Gain 13 to 8 Victory Over McBride Basket Team.

St. Louis U. High retained its chance to the Christian Brothers' High for the Preparatory League basketball championship by defeating McBride, 13 to 8, before about 1000 persons at the St. Louis University gymnasium last night.

The game was a dull affair for the spectators because of the conservative tactics and close guarding of both teams. St. Louis scored only four field goals throughout and McBride three shots.

The Junior Billikens' margin of victory was the result of five successful free throws.

The first half ended in a 4-4 tie but St. Louis had held the ball during most of the period. McBride opened the third quarter to take the lead for the first time on Kelly's free throw but Flannery and Hemp caged field goals to put Tom Stanton's team in the lead again. St. Louis was never headed thereafter and three fouls committed by the Colonnades in the final minutes of the game gave the victors an opportunity to clinch the decision.

St. Louis and McBride each have one game remaining, both playing Western Military Academy next week. St. Louis can tie for the title by winning the quarter to take the lead for the first time on Kelly's free throw but Flannery and Hemp caged field goals to put Tom Stanton's team in the lead again. St. Louis and McBride each have one game remaining, both playing Western Military Academy next week. St. Louis can tie for the title by winning the quarter to take the lead for the first time on Kelly's free throw but Flannery and Hemp caged field goals to put Tom Stanton's team in the lead again. St. Louis was never headed thereafter and three fouls committed by the Colonnades in the final minutes of the game gave the victors an opportunity to clinch the decision.

TERRIS FAVORED TO GAIN VICTORY OVER McLARNIN

Winner of 10-Round Bout Tonight Will Be in Line for Title Meeting with Mandell.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Sid Terris, idol of New York's East Side, and Jimmy McLarnin of Los Angeles meet over the 10-round distance in Madison Square Garden tonight with prospects of the winner gaining an opportunity to challenge Sammy Mandell for light weight honors.

The Pacific coast battler is reputed to be a heavy puncher and many enthusiasts have switched allegiance from Terris to McLarnin for this tussle. Nevertheless, the Ghetto flash rules an 8-to-5 favorite to whip McLarnin, who will be making his initial bow in the East.

McLarnin's most recent outstanding achievement was a knockout registered against Louis (Kid) Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., former world's featherweight champion, in Chicago.

Both boxers tapered off their training with light exercises yesterday. Although there has been talk that McLarnin would have difficulty in making the class weight of 135 pounds, he scaled 135½ yesterday and is expected to have no trouble in reducing the extra pound and a half for the official weighing-in before the Boxing Commission in the afternoon.

Terris and McLarnin both will be well under the lightweight limit, 133½ pounds at the weighing-in today.

McLarnin's weight came as a distinct surprise to boxing critics. In view of the fact that the coast star scaled 154½ pounds yesterday and was reported to be having difficulty making the stipulated 135 pounds.

Both Drake and Grinnell were defeated on visits to St. Louis by the Bears, while Ames breezed through to an easy triumph. Washington U. expects to make a clean sweep of the present road trip.

Coach White probably will start Meyer at center, Captain Lorraine Eckert and Ralph Kurz at guards and Theis Lohring and Kingsley Weintze at forwards.

Under No Mental Strain. Nor is he offering an alibi for the showing he made. His thoughts are on what he is going to do this season. He doesn't say a word about the troubles which beset him last year. He doesn't mention that he was worried by the illness of his wife during the greater part of the season.

This year, Bell is laboring under no mental strain. He asked to come to camp early in order to have the advantage of the extra week of training and he is taking the fullest advantage of the opportunity afforded him.

Right now he is in common with the rest of the squad, is paying attention largely to his physical condition. He is running around the park building up his lung power. He is loosening his muscles in hunting and throwing. There has been no in-field work here nor any hitting practice. Bell is confident that he can overcome his 1927 weaknesses and thinks he will be able to beat back to his 1928 form.

"There is no use talking about what is past," Bell said. "I think the thing to do is to talk wood and say nothing. I know that I can hit and field with the best of them and that is what I'll do this year."

Yesterday was the best day the Cardinals have experienced in camp so far. The sun beat down with an intensity which sent the thermometer to 88 degrees during the afternoon and snuffed the players, old and young, to get the best out of the week.

McKeehan delivered a short speech before the morning session advising his players to guard against catching cold by leaving the park after hot showers without their coats on. Due to a cold wind which has been blowing here quite a few colds have developed and it was the manager's hope that a word from him might help.

After the talk, the players trotted around the field and then took part in "pepper" games. Following that the pitchers threw the ball for a while to loosen up their muscles and a long session with the medicine ball completed the forenoon exercises.

Shedley's Head In Hand. During play with the medicine ball Bill Shedley and Gus Mauer had a head-on collision from which, due to Billy's harder ball, Mauer emerged with a blood nose and a bruised mouth. After first aid treatment in the clubhouse he returned to the field.

About 11:45 the workout was concluded and the players permitted to rest until 1 o'clock.

Babe Hofmann, a pitcher belonging to the Rochester club, reported yesterday to join the staff of Cardinal "birdings" who are here getting acquainted with the big league brother.

Godfrey, on the other hand, opened his conditioning grind at Soper's ranch, near Ojai, Cal., twenty or so pounds overweight and has been going through a stiff training since.

Paulino scaled 135 pounds, his handlers reported, at the end of his workout yesterday. He plans to beat this figure when he weighs in Tuesday.

Lester Bell, Paying Strict Attention to His Knitting, Expects to Turn Comeback

"I Know I Can Hit and Field and That's What I'll Do This Year," Declares Third Sacker, Who Failed in 1927—Players in Two Workouts.

By W. J. McGoogan Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

AVON PARK, Fla., Feb. 24.—When the Cardinal battery was reported for spring training here, three regulars who were not expected to report were on hand. They were Lester Bell, third baseman, Tommy Thevenow, shortstop, and Ray Blades, outfielder.

The three were so anxious to get a good start in 1928 that they asked for, and were given permission to report a week early.

Thevenow and Blades suffered injuries last year which kept them out of the game a great part of the time. Thevenow with a broken ankle and Blades with an injured knee. These two wished to see if their ailments had healed.

But there was nothing wrong with Bell, physically, last year. He didn't have so much as a dislocated eyebrow. But he was a bad ball player. The same third baseman who was one of the best in the world championship machine of 1926 didn't hit and he didn't field. He admits it.

Concerning Diet.

THE dieting craze has reached the town of Amarillo, Tex., which has a club in the Western Baseball League. Manager Sled Allen indicated he is striving for bigger and better stomachs when he announced the following diet for his players:

BREAKFAST: Pint of hot water with lemon juice, setting up exercises, stewed prunes, grapefruit or oranges, pint of milk with whole wheat bread or muffins and a cereal.

LUNCH: Raw vegetables, soup, whole wheat bread, a stewed fruit and a quart of buttermilk.

DINNER: Vegetable soup, non-red meat, eggs, spinach, lettuce, celery, buttermilk and jelly.

Two days after this diet goes into effect Sled should have a Mount Wilson telescope anything that resembles a ball player.

Considering the conjunction of orange juice and milk on the breakfast schedule you could not blame the poor chatters for beating it.

Collegiate.
CURIOUS fans, reading that "Yale" Okun is to be with us next Tuesday as an opponent of Chuck Wiggins at the Coliseum, may wonder just how the pugilist became so collegiate in name.

We will give you 2,645,452 tries and bet you can't locate the New Haven atmosphere. The evolution is simple. Okun's real prefix is Julius, and if you exchange "Julius" into its Yiddish diminutive the result is "Yule," which is the way a New York taxi driver might pronounce "Yale."

That's real deduction, Watson. Memo: We hope that similar deduction doesn't arrive at the conclusion that Okun is just another form of Hukum of which our suffering public has had a plenty.

The three 10-round bouts arranged by Matchmaker Jack Tippett on the Fred Stockham American Legion Post's professional boxing and at the New Coliseum Tuesday night, will be in the nature of elimination bouts, paving the way for the return of the winners in more important events.

Tippett announced today that he has sent inquiries to Leo Lomski, of Aberdeen, Wash., leading contender for the light heavyweight crown; Milton Manguna, New Orleans featherweight; and Babe McCorgary, the Oklahoma light heavyweight star, to ascertain whether they will accept engagements in St. Louis with the winners of next week's bouts.

The New Coliseum matchmaker plans to sign Lomski to take on the winner of the heavyweight duel between Chuck Wiggins of Indiana, and Yale Okun of New York.

Manguna is sought by Tippett to oppose the winner of the featherweight match between Johnny "Peewee" Kaiser and Paul Steadman. In recent bouts with both local batters at Little Rock, Ark., Manguna gained point decisions.

Both Kaiser and Steadman are eager to avenge these setbacks. ## THE POPULAR CUTS OF FRESH MEATS

Their Comparative Flavor and Cost and Ways of Cooking Them.

Less expensive cuts of meat are those from the parts of the animal that have the most muscular development. They are always better flavored than the more tender cuts, but because the muscle fibers have been more exercised they need long slow cooking to soften them.

The neck, shoulder, shank, brisket, and the flank may be used for braising or for stews. Braised meat is cooked with a variety of diced vegetables and a very small amount of water in a closely covered pan either on the top of the stove or in the oven.

In using these cuts for stews they are best if they are first browned quickly in hot fat, then covered with cold water, heated very slowly to the boiling point and cooled for about two hours or even longer.

The chuck, the round and rump may all be cooked as roasts, providing longer time is allowed for the roasting. The meat must always be browned quickly in order to seal in the juices, then the heat reduced to finish the cooking. A very small amount of water, just enough to cover the bottom of the pan, should be used and the meat cooked in a covered roaster. This small amount of water keeps the meat from drying out, extracts some of the flavor and can be used in the making of good gravies.

The chuck, or round, or the rump can also be cut into steaks (which is really a type of pot roast) in which tomatoes are used instead of water.

Bananas themselves are so high in food value that simplicity in their service is important.

BANANAS ARE VERSATILE

An advantage in the use of bananas is that they lend themselves to a considerable variety of simple dishes.

Served whole in the skin at breakfast, they are very satisfying when simply eaten with a fork. Sliced and served with cream and sugar they make an equally good breakfast dish.

As one of the component parts of a fruit salad, they are nourishing and delicious for luncheon and they could also serve as the filling for cake or some other dinner dessert.

MUTTON AND LAMB BROTH ARE NICE FOR A CHANGE

Everyone has heard of Scotch broth but few home cooks know how to make it. Have your butcher cut up a lamb shank. Put it to boil in one and one-half quarts of water.

Cook the shank slowly until the meat is tender. Season well with salt when the meat is put on the stove.

Add two cups of raw potatoes (diced), one cup diced carrots, one-half cup of carrots ground in the food chopper and two onions sliced.

Cook until the vegetables are tender. The soup may be strained, cooled, and the fat removed, or it may be served with the vegetables.

In contrast to Scotch broth is plain lamb broth, which is especially nice to serve sick persons and invalids. To make it take two and one-half pounds lamb shank, two teaspoons salt, one and one-half quarts cold water and one-fourth cup barley.

Soak barley over night. Cut meat in pieces, put it in the soup kettle, salt it, and cover with the cold water.

Bring to boil, then simmer until meat is tender. Take it out, add the barley to the soup, and cook until barley is soft.

CLEAR AND CREAM SOUPS AND THEIR FOOD VALUE

The Type of Soup to Serve Depends Upon the Type of Meal Planned.

There are many kinds of soups, and it depends entirely on what soup is made of as to how much actual food value it has. For instance, creamed soups made with milk, vegetables, butter and flour are very nutritious; clear bouillon, on the other hand, has stimulating properties with very little actual food value.

One of the advantages of serving hot soup at night is that it often stimulates the appetite and prepares the digestive system for the food that is to follow. Whether it is necessary to serve soup every night or not, it is a rather difficult question to answer, as it depends on the composition of the meal in general.

Cream soups should not be served when there is a heavy meat or heavy dessert to follow. They are very helpful in supplying added nutriment when the rest of the meal is rather scant, as, for example, when left-overs are being used or when unexpected company puts in an appearance. If the main part of the meal is hearty it is perhaps not necessary to always include soup.

Hints on Desserts.

Let your dessert be light if your main course is heavy. That is, let it consist of such things as plain fruit, fruit gelatin, whips or charlottes, fruit ices, etc. Hearty desserts are in order when the main part of the meal has been made up of lighter foods. For instance, vegetable plate dinners should be followed by hearty desserts or desserts containing larger quantities of starches or fats. The steamed puddings, cereal puddings, pies or pastry desserts are all good to use following a vegetable dinner.

One and one-half pounds chopped beef (round, flank or chuck), one tablespoon minced onion, one-half cup fine breadcrumbs, one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, one and one-half teaspoons salt, three-quarters cup milk or hot water, one egg.

Soak the milk, pour over the breadcrumbs. When the crumbs are soft add to the meat with all the other ingredients. Mix thoroughly and shape into balls about two inches in diameter and one-half inch thick. Place in a greased baking pan and bake in a hot oven for 25 minutes. Bake two or three times during the cooking.

Return mixture to desirable boiler, stir well and cook two minutes, then remove from fire and chill.

Bake a rich flaky pie pastry on the outside of a small pie plate or in tiny individual pie plates, in a hot oven until pastry begins to brown, then in a moderate oven until pastry is cooked through.

When ready to serve, fill the pastry shell with the pineapple mixture. Whip one-half pint of whipping cream until stiff, add three tablespoons powdered sugar and one-fourth teaspoon vanilla, and heap cream on top of pie making many little pointed caps. Serve at once.

The old-fashioned delicacy, "Snow Pudding," is familiar to those of us who remember that up to a decade ago, the dessert was the one most generally selected for company meals, especially in rural districts, where commercial ice cream was difficult to procure.

A simple recipe for snow pudding calls for four tablespoons lemon juice, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, yellow oil, whites of three eggs, two tablespoons gelatin and one cup of sugar.

Soak the gelatin in four tablespoons cold water 10 minutes, dissolve in one cup of boiling water to which the sugar is added; add the juice and rind and set aside to cool. Have the whites of eggs beaten until light and dry; place in pan of cold water and add the gelatin slowly, beating all the time until it begins to set. Pour into melon mold or bowl, which has been rinsed with cold water. Set in cold place until ready to serve. Turn out on chop plate and surround with sauce of choice or garnish with whipped cream.

NEW VEGETABLE SALADS
Serve a Healthful Vegetable Salad Every Day on Your Menu.

You can have every one enjoying it if you will serve that outstanding salad which calls for carrots (shredded) and grated pineapple in lemon juice. The carrots seem like something other than Shoomers Cabbage, too, before to the group of expensive salads. They need the right shredding to be most delicious. I often use this same medium sized grater for them.

Cabbage combined with carrot and green pepper, makes an inexpensive salad. We have given you the recipe on the salad sheet. It is very good with finely chopped beef salad. When tomatoes and radishes are in season and inexpensive, cabbage combined with grated pineapple and finely chopped pimiento.

Pen Lent.
Soak four cups split peas over night. In morning cook with one onion in enough water to cover and boil till soft. Drain and force through colander. Beat one tablespoonful fat, salt, pepper and two eggs. Place in buttered mold and steam one hour. Turn out and cut in slices. Serve with tomato sauce.

SNOWY DELICACIES

FROM THE COOK BOOK

Though the Snow King Seldom Visits Us, He Sends Us National Recipes.

The snow-covered pavements of the residence district naturally bring to mind the fact that winter is still with us.

To those of us who assemble on the snow brings home to us the fact that there are many dishes in the realm of cookery which rejoice in names which are appropriate to the season. For instance, we have Snowflake salad.

For this seasonable dish take one cup cream, 12 marshmallows, three rings of pineapple, one-half cup chopped nut meats. Whip the cream and add marshmallows which have been cut fine, the pineapple which has also been cut fine, and the nuts. Mix well and set on ice for several hours. Serve on lettuce leaves with cream mayonnaise dressing. Serves six.

Following the idea, the next dish on the snow calendar, bears the suggestive name of "Snowballs." Have as many five-inch squares of cheese cloth as you have persons to serve. Spread two or three tablespoons of hot cooked rice on the cloth. Place three cooked, pitted olives in the center. Pick up corners of cloth and tie so as to entirely cover peones. Drop into boiling water and cook 10 minutes. Remove from heat; serve with sugar and cream or a custard sauce.

This is an especially fine dish for children and will be a delightful surprise for the youngsters. Another appropriate delicacy is a delicious dessert named "Pineapple Snow." To make it place a layer of crushed pineapple in a shallow dish. Make jelly with the drained-off juice, using the proportion of gelatin required by your favorite brand. Pour half of this over the fruit. When the remainder is beginning to stiffen, whip with an egg beater until it is a stiff, snowy froth. Pour into the mold on top of the other gelatin; chill, and serve with cream.

Another dessert which, though it bears a very seasonable name, is suitable to serve at company meals and that is "Snow-Capped Pie." To make it pour one cup boiling water into saucepan and add one-half tablespoon butter. Mix three-fourths cup sugar and four tablespoons cornstarch, add to water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. The place mixture over boiling water for 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Add one cup crushed canned pineapple and when thoroughly heated through, pour in two egg yolks.

Return mixture to desirable boiler, stir well and cook two minutes, then remove from fire and chill.

Bake a rich flaky pie pastry on the outside of a small pie plate or in tiny individual pie plates, in a hot oven until pastry begins to brown, then in a moderate oven until pastry is cooked through.

When ready to serve, fill the pastry shell with the pineapple mixture. Whip one-half pint of whipping cream until stiff, add three tablespoons powdered sugar and one-fourth teaspoon vanilla, and heap cream on top of pie making many little pointed caps. Serve at once.

The old-fashioned delicacy, "Snow Pudding," is familiar to those of us who remember that up to a decade ago, the dessert was the one most generally selected for company meals, especially in rural districts, where commercial ice cream was difficult to procure.

A simple recipe for snow pudding calls for four tablespoons lemon juice, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, yellow oil, whites of three eggs, two tablespoons gelatin and one cup of sugar.

Soak the gelatin in four tablespoons cold water 10 minutes, dissolve in one cup of boiling water to which the sugar is added; add the juice and rind and set aside to cool. Have the whites of eggs beaten until light and dry; place in pan of cold water and add the gelatin slowly, beating all the time until it begins to set. Pour into melon mold or bowl, which has been rinsed with cold water. Set in cold place until ready to serve. Turn out on chop plate and surround with sauce of choice or garnish with whipped cream.

RECIPES FOR DISHES IN WEEK'S MENUS

Palatable Attractively Served Food Adds Greatly to Home Cooked Meals.

American or Swiss cheese may be used for the toasted sandwiches for Sunday's supper. These may be made either the regulation double sandwiches or the open-faced type. The latter is sometimes more popular, especially for cold weather, as it can be served hotter than the double sandwich. To make them, grate or cut the cheese into small pieces. Mix with one-half teaspoon of mustard, one-half teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce and one well-beaten egg for each two cups of cut cheese. This makes a thick, pasty mixture which is spread in a thick layer over a large slice of bread. Cover the cheese with two or three slices of bacon and put under the broiler or in a very hot oven until the cheese melts, the bread is toasted on the edges and the bacon crisp. Serve at once either with watercress or with hearts of lettuce salad.

American Chop Suey.
Two cups chopped meat (beef, pork or veal), one large onion sliced, one-half green pepper shredded, one cup boiling water, one cup finely broken macaroni, one cup sliced celery, three tablespoons drippings, two cups tomatoes.
Melt the drippings, add the sliced onion, green pepper and the celery, cover closely and cook for five minutes. Then add the meat and stir over a hot fire until the meat is brown. Add the boiling water and the tomatoes. Season with salt and pepper and heat to the boiling point. Add the macaroni and cook until the macaroni is tender and most of the liquid absorbed. Season with Worcestershire sauce and serve very hot.

Baked Meat Balls.
One and one-half pounds chopped beef (round, flank or chuck), one tablespoon minced onion, one-half cup fine bread-crumbs, one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, one and one-half teaspoons salt, three-quarters cup milk or hot water, one egg.
Scald the milk, pour over the bread-crumbs. When the crumbs are soft add to the meat with all the other ingredients. Mix thoroughly and shape into balls about two inches in diameter and one-half inch thick. Place in a greased baking pan and bake in a hot oven for 25 minutes. Baste two or three times during the cooking with one-third cup of boiling water mixed with two tablespoons of butter and one teaspoon of lemon juice.

Florentine Spinach.
Three cups finely chopped cooked spinach, two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon flour, one-half cup milk, one-eighth teaspoon nutmeg, one-quarter pound thinly sliced Swiss cheese.
Melt the butter, add the flour and then the milk. Cook until thickened, stir in the spinach and the nutmeg. Season to taste with salt and pepper and spread in a buttered baking dish with the cheese over the top. Bake in a moderate oven about 15 minutes until the cheese is melted and bubbling. Serve with slices of broiled bacon.

Cranberry Cottage Pudding.
One-quarter cup butter or shortening, one egg, one and one-half cups flour, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half cup sugar, two-thirds cup milk, two teaspoons baking powder, one and one-half cups cranberries (cut in half or chopped coarsely).
Cream the shortening and the sugar together. Add the egg and beat until smooth. Then stir in the milk and the flour and baking powder sifted together. When well blended, add the cranberries that have been cut in half and put through the meat chopper, using a coarse knife. Pour into a greased shallow pan and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, 20 to 25 minutes. Serve warm with hard sauce.

NEW VEGETABLE SALADS

Serve a Healthful Vegetable Salad Every Day on Your Menu.

You can have every one guessing if you will serve that sunshine salad which calls for carrots (with red) and grated pineapple in lemon jelly. The carrots seem like something other than themselves. Cabbage, too, below: to the group of expensive salads. They need the right shredding to be most delicious. I often use this same medium sized grater for them.

Cabbage combined with carrot and green pepper, makes an inexpensive salad. We have given you the recipe on the salad sheet. It is very good with finely chopped beet salad. When tomatoes and radishes are in season and inexpensive, cabbage combined with grated pineapple and finely chopped pimiento.

Pea Loaf.
Soak four cups split peas over night. In morning cook with one onion in enough water to cover and boil till soft. Drain and force through colander. Beat in one tablespoonful fat, salt, pepper and two eggs. Place in buttered mold and steam one hour. Turn out and cut in slices. Serve with tomato sauce.

SNOWY DELICACIES FROM THE COOK BOOK

Though the Snow King Seldom Visits Us, He Sends Us National Recipes.

The snow-covered pavements of the residence district naturally bring to mind the fact that winter is still with us.

To those of us who assemble around the dining table for the daily supper, the snow brings home to us the fact that there are many dishes in the realm of cookery which rejoice in names which are appropriate to the season.

For instance, we have Snowflake salad. For this seasonable dish take one cup cream, 12 marshmallows, three cups of pineapple, one-half cup chopped nut meats. Whip the cream, add marshmallows which have been cut fine, the pineapple which has also been cut fine, and the nuts. Mix well and set on ice several hours. Serve on lettuce hearts with cream mayonnaise dressing. Serves six.

Following the idea, the next dish in the snow calendar bears the suggestive name of "Snowballs."

Have as many five-inch squares of cheesecloth as you have persons to serve. Spread two or three tablespoons of hot cooked rice on the cloth. Place three cooked, pitted prunes in the center. Pick up corners of cloth and tie so as to enclose prunes. Drop into boiling water and cook 10 minutes. Remove from bag; serve with sugar and cream or a custard sauce.

This is an especially fine dish for children and will be a delightful surprise for the youngsters. Another appropriate delicacy is a delicious dessert named "Pineapple Snow." To make it place a layer of crushed pineapple in a shallow dish. Make jelly with the drained-off juice, using the proportion of gelatin required by your favorite brand. Mix three-fourths cup sugar and four tablespoons cornstarch, add to water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens, then place mixture over boiling water for 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Add one cup crushed canned pineapple and the thoroughly heated through, pour in two egg yolks.

Return mixture to double boiler, stir well and cook two minutes, then remove from fire and chill. When ready to serve, fill the pastry shell with the pineapple mixture. ## PIQUANT SALAD DRESSINGS PLEASE THE MALE PALATE Cater to the Family Palate by Varying the Way of Serving Vegetables.

When men cannot be persuaded to eat salads with plain mayonnaise, try them with a more flavorful, piquant dressing. It is a common remark of the despairing housewife that her men folks won't eat the salads and leftovers that she prepares for them. It should be remembered that most men are fond of the sharper and spicier flavors. Witness the array of condiments on the tables at men's clubs and restaurants as evidence of their taste in seasonings.

One of the most convenient ways of adding spicy flavoring and palatability to your salads and leftovers is by means of a highly flavored dressing found delicious as sauce for hot or cold meats and fish, just as it comes from the bottle. You can season mayonnaise or oil dressing with favorite spices, onions and pepper, or a prepared sauce that is spicy, will add a flavor that men will relish.

Adding flavor when needed, careful attention to dainty and attractive service, varied menus and maintaining a cheerful atmosphere at meals are all important factors in getting the most out of foods.

Form This Habit As It Saves the Housewife's Time and Energy. In planning food for the week after the menus have been decided upon, it is usually a good plan to check up on the amount and kinds of supplies required. Whenever possible, it is usually a little more economical to buy staple supplies in quantities enough to last at least a week, that is, such things as coffee, butter, sugar, cereals, potatoes, etc., will keep well and save a considerable amount of time in marketing during the week. It is, of course, almost always necessary to buy green vegetables and meats at the time that they are to be used.

Try Canned Grapefruit.
Canned grapefruit hearts are a great convenience to the busy housewife both as a time saver and when fresh grapefruit is not avail-

CANNED FRUITS WITH MEATS

These Two Articles of Food Served Together Are Very Palatable. There is a tendency in the winter months to serve an over-abundance of meats as the main dish because the vegetable supply is smaller and a variety of fresh vegetables harder to obtain.

This can be partly overcome by preferences for certain meats in the winter months. The winter months are the best time to serve meats which are just as nutritious as the fresh ones, and also by making use of the newer method of serving canned fruits with meat. For instance, canned pears, dipped in flour may be browned in the pan around roast mutton or lamb. Bananas cut in half lengthwise may be browned and served with roast beef. Sliced canned pineapple is good with chicken, with ham or with pork chops. Apples cut in rings without peeling may be baked with pork or sautéed and served with bacon.

Roast beef flavored with raisins is a dish of fine flavor. Make some cuts in the outer layer of fat on the roast and put some raisins in them. As the fat browns the flavor of the fruit penetrates all through the meat.

Apricot Tarts.
Use very tiny pie plates or tart plates. Line with pie crust (see above) and bake. Meanwhile cook dried apricots in the usual way and then put them through a sieve, and sweeten to taste. To each cup of this add six marshmallows cut into very tiny pieces. Put this mixture into the baked pie shells, and decorate with bits of marshmallow. A half teaspoon of mace in these mashed apricots makes these tarts extra delicious.

Line sherbet glasses with sliced, fresh or preserved peaches, leaving a small space between them. Fill with Vanilla KOSTO and chill. Top with whipped cream and serve.

A DELIGHTFUL MENU FOR A BRIDGE PARTY

These Simple Refreshments Are Easily Prepared by the Home Cook.

Bridge luncheons are best simplified to "plate service," especially if the hostess is entertaining without a maid or with only a small amount of help.

When an afternoon bridge is to be given, many hostesses have found it more convenient to invite guests for a luncheon preceding the bridge so that play may begin early. This is sometimes done to do away with the custom of serving refreshments late in the afternoon which, in these days of reducing diets, means two meals too close together to suit many people.

A good menu to use for such a plate luncheon is made up of hot chicken sandwiches with currant jelly, asparagus salad, peach melba and tea or coffee.

The sandwiches and the salad are served on the same plate with a few toasted saltine crackers or cheese crackers; tea or coffee may be served with the meal or with the dessert.

The sandwiches are made by finely chopping either canned or home cooked chicken and seasoning it with minced parsley, salt, pepper and one-quarter cup of finely cut celery to each one and one-half cups of chicken will make four large sandwiches, that is, sandwiches made from two whole slices of bread and which are to be considered one serving.

Spread the filling rather thickly between two slices of bread, each cut one-third of an inch thick. Press closely together. Beat one egg and add one cup of milk. This is enough for four sandwiches. Dip each sandwich in the egg and milk mixture and then brown in hot chicken fat or equal parts of beef dripping and butter in a hot frying pan. Serve the sandwiches with a spoon of currant jelly on the top of each one.

Arrange canned asparagus tips on lettuce on the plate with the sandwich, allowing about five stalks of asparagus with each serving. Place a strip of green pepper or pimento around the stalks of asparagus and serve with any desired dressing.

The peach melba is made from canned peaches, using the very large halves, drained from the syrup and thoroughly chilled. There are generally six of these halves in a can. Cut slices of sponge cake slightly larger than the peach. Place the peach cut side up on each slice of sponge cake and fill with a spoon of vanilla ice cream. Mix one-half cup of raspberry jam with two tablespoons of hot water, a few drops of lemon juice. Beat until smooth and pour a spoon over each peach. Serve at once.

EASY HOT DISHES TO SERVE CHILDREN FOR LUNCHEON
It is Usually Difficult to Get Them to Eat Nourishing Meal.

Why not try having a sandwich luncheon with a hot beverage ready for the children when they come home? This would save you work, as the sandwiches could be made up during the morning, wrapped in wax paper until you are ready to serve them.

The sandwiches may be made of lettuce, chopped egg, nut bread with cream cheese. Very thin slices of lean meat, jelly, peanut butter, or chopped dates and figs—these are all nutritious and usually liked by children. Use a variety of bread—white, whole wheat, raisin or nut bread, or occasionally make toasted sandwiches.

Hot cocoa made with milk, hot malted milk or one of the cereal beverages will be appreciated on cold days, while milk, buttermilk or cold malted milk can be used when the weather is warm.

Creamed soups served with crackers, and lettuce sandwiches with an apple or a piece of fruit for dessert will also supply an adequate meal and one that can be prepared and served in a very short time. A large variety of creamed soups can be made so that this need not become monotonous.

Vegetable chowders made with milk may be substituted for the creamed soups. Scalloped vegetables or creamed vegetables or oysters on toast served with milk and some fruit offer another suggestion for an easily prepared lunch.

Cake Dessert.
Cut the cake into rounds or squares, place on individual plates and moisten slightly with grapefruit juice. Drain the fruit thoroughly, mix with half the bulk of strawberries, pile high on the cake and top with whipped cream or marshmallow whip.

Buttered Cabbage.
Shred cabbage fine as for cold slaw. Barely cover with boiling water and boil rapidly, counting down minutes from the time the water starts to boil. Drain and serve with butter, salt and pepper.

How to Roll Pastry.
Pastry must always be rolled with a light rather than a heavy motion. Rolled in this way the air will not be pressed from it, thus making it of its flakiness.

The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Railroad shares showed fairly consistent strength throughout today's stock market, but industrials wobbled erratically in reflection of the play of opposing speculative forces. Net gains in the rails ran from 1 to 4 points. Standard industrials showed little change, but several of the industrial specialties ran up 3 to nearly 10 points and a number showed losses of 4 to 7 points.
Trading was only moderate in volume, the day's sales falling slightly below 1,800,000 shares.
The unexpectedly large reduction of $10,000,000 in brokers' loans brought only a temporary flurry of buying at the outset of the market. Selling pressure was quickly renewed against international nickel and some of the other popular favorites, with the result that the general market was headed downward before the end of the first half hour.

Buying of Rails.
Heavy buying of the rails just before midday, based on unconfirmed, and, in some quarters, very much doubted, reports that Eastern railroad executives had reached an agreement whereby P. L. Lor-wood would abandon his proposed fifth trunk line system and transfer the control of the system to one of the other Eastern trunk lines, stilled the market, and started a fresh buying movement. "Bear" traders, nevertheless, sought out spots among the specialties, while pools continued to mark up others, with the outside public appearing to be showing more of a disposition to unload on the rallies than to buy on the declines. Commission house comment seemed to lean to the theory that a further substantial reduction in loans was necessary to correct the too-heavy speculative position created by past activities in recent months.
Call money held steady at the renewal rate of 4 1/2 per cent despite the calling of about $25,000, 000 in bank loans during the day.
Other monetary accommodations were unchanged. Shipment of $2-35,000 gold to Argentina was announced by New York bankers.

Little in News.
There was little in the day's business news to influence the stock movement. The weekly mercantile reviews continued to report improvement with no changes of importance. Bethlehem Steel raised its price on heavy steel products, although the company's earnings were meeting the earlier advances of subsidiaries of the U. S. Steel Corporation and Midwestern Independents. U. S. Steel common stock continued to drag, closing 1/2 net
lower at 12 1/2.

General Motors Up Slightly.
General Motors moved within a range of two points, closing 1/2 higher at 13 1/2. U. S. Rubber went down 1/2, and closed near the top. Substantial advances also were recorded by American Locomotive company, Allis-Chalmers, American Machine and Foundry, Equitable Building, Lambert, R. H. Macy, Matheson Alkali and National Surgical, all of which were advanced three points or more.

International Nickel Opened at 17, advanced to 17 1/2, broke to a new 1928 low at 17 1/4, and rallied to 16 1/2, off 1/2 net. U. S. Iron Pipe went down 1/2, and closed near the top. U. S. Steel common stock
continued to drag, closing 1/2 net
lower at 12 1/2.

Exchange Little Reactionary.
Commodity markets pointed upward. Cotton rallied $1.50 to more than $2 a bale. Grain prices advanced fractionally on reports of crop damage in the winter wheat belt.

Foreign exchanges were slightly reactionary, with sterling cash advance below $4.85.
Eastern railroad executives have been meeting here at intervals for several months, but no statement as to the nature of their discussions has been made public, except that progress has been reported.

Wabash January Report.
Wabash Railway total operating revenue for January, 1928, as compared with the same month last year, was $801,333, as compared with $801,333 for the same month in 1927.
Operating expenses were $612,333, as compared with $612,333 in January, 1927.
Net income was $189,000, as compared with $189,000 in January, 1927.
The company's earnings for the first three months of 1928, as compared with the same months last year, were $567,000, as compared with $567,000 in 1927.

POLICE AUTOS GO TOO FAST, GERK DECLARES

Warns Drivers Against Exceeding 25 Miles an Hour Except in Emergency.

Drivers of police department automobiles were warned today by Chief of Police Gerck that they must obey traffic ordinances and regulations.

"Reckless driving must cease," the Chief ordered. "Our cars are figuring in so many accidents the conclusion is forced upon me that the men operating them must be responsible for many of the smash-ups. The other fellow can't always be wrong. Careful drivers can prevent many accidents even though the other fellow is reckless."

"It is only in the greatest emergency that the driver of a police automobile is justified in exceeding a rate of 25 miles an hour, and from now on our drivers must keep within that speed. Neither will our drivers be allowed to cut corners, pass street cars on the wrong side, run through stop-and-go signals, blow horns without cause or do any of the numerous other things that impede traffic and cause accidents."

Chief Gerck served notice that police drivers involved in accidents must present "overwhelming" evidence to clear themselves. Guilty ones will be "summarily dealt with," and to "escape by paying the damage will be light punishment."

158,800 GAIN IN POPULATION OF CANADA FROM IMMIGRANTS

More Than 52,000 of New Arrivals in 1927 Were From Great Britain, Report Says.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 24.—An immigrant to Canada crossed over the boundary lines of the Dominion every two minutes of daylight during 1927, according to the Department of Colonization and Development of the Canadian Pacific Railway in a report made public here.

"Immigrants who entered Canada during the year totaled 158,800, an increase of 22,900 over 1926," the report states. "Immigration from the British Isles increased from 48,819 to 52,940, from the United States from 20,944 to 22,818 and from other countries from 66,221 to 82,126."

"Ontario gained the largest number of immigrants, with a total of 52,228. Manitoba was second with 36,412. Western Canada got 54 per cent of the total."

"States of the United States that contributed most heavily to the Canadian immigration were: Michigan, 3313; New York, 2237; Washington, 1690; Minnesota, 1455; California, 1395, and Massachusetts, 1036. With the exception of the United Kingdom, Germany sent the largest number of immigrants from Europe, 9150."

GEORGE URBAN DIES IN BUFFALO

Cleveland Was First Suggested as Candidate at His Home.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 24.—The death here last night of George Urban Jr., prominent industrialist and one of the originators of the Pan-American Exposition here, recalled to day the circumstances under which the name of Grover Cleveland was first suggested as a Democratic candidate for President.

Although Urban was a Republican, he long was a close friend and admirer of the former Sheriff of Erie County, Mayor of Buffalo and Governor of New York. While he was Governor, Cleveland came to Buffalo on a business mission and was a guest of Urban at an oyster party on the latter's estate at Crookston. Gathered in a hickory grove surrounding an old log cabin on the estate, the guests heard Gerhard Lang toast Cleveland as the next President of the United States. Cleveland laughed at the suggestion, but the campaign gained impetus and Cleveland not long afterward was nominated and elected.

An Every-Day Story

"I am glad to recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and the Favorite Prescription," said Mrs. Martha Strayer of 1919 M. St., Lincoln, Neb. "I have regained my health and strength several different times by taking one or both of these remedies. When I feel the need of a general tonic I take the 'Golden Medical Discovery'; if I need a feminine medicine I take the 'Favorite Prescription.' I have taken both at the same time, too, alternately." Dr. Pierce's famous family remedies are sold at all drug stores in tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.

Sayings of Mrs. Solomon

By Helen Rowland

WHAT WOMEN LOVE.

My Daughter, be of good cheer.

For, whithersoever thou turnest, the world is full of men; and the leaves of the forest are not more infinite in their variety.

Behold, I have watched them in the by-ways and upon the highways, in the taverns and in the wild places, and my sleeves are full of notes.

For lo, there were old men endeavoring to look young and dashing and peppy, and young men striving to appear worldly-wise and cynical.

Men in white spats and monocles who carried swagger sticks—and men in Oxford bags and sporting caps, who carried golf clubs and racing sheets.

Men who gazed thoughtfully into haberdashery windows and adjusted their cravats—and men who gazed significantly after blondes and flappers.

Men who harkened patiently to the nagging of their wives—and men who flirted surreptitiously with other men's wives.

Men who over-tipped the hat-check boys—and men who bullied the waitress.

Fat men who ate and drank ravenously—and lean men who sniffed at the food and complained of the service.

Men who laughed raucously at their own jokes—and men who yawned through musical comedies without smiling.

Men who took their work lightly and their golf seriously—and men who took their golf seriously and their love lightly.

Men who lived by time-clocks—and men who were never on time.

Men with dull eyes who told smoking-car stories—and men with melting eyes who told beautiful amorous lies.

Men who thought of nothing but dollars; men who thought of nothing but women; men who thought of nothing but work; men who thought of nothing but play—and men who talked of nothing but how to mix drinks.

Yet, behold, in all that multitude, there was not one of these who was not "Somebody's Darling," and some woman's IDEAL.

For, alas, a woman must love SOMETHING, and what save a man, can she idealize?

SELAH.
(Copyright, 1928)The Eyes of The ChildrenBy Chas. A. L. Reed, M. D., Former President of the American Medical Association.

It is fortunate in having in the United States an organization devoted to the care and protection of eyesight. It is called the Eyesight Conservation Council of America. This body is fortunate in having Mr. Guy A. Henry as its director-general. In an address on saving children's eyes, Mr. Henry made the interesting observation that it took millions of years to develop the human eye for use out of doors, and civilization has allowed it about five centuries to adapt to reading indoors, and that makes us wonder what percentage of the population of any state could read and write five centuries ago.

Most eye troubles begin in youth. It is during childhood that eye care should be most zealously taught and practiced. Many eye defects, if uncorrected at that time, increase steadily with age.

Thousands of children start their school work every year handicapped because their parents have not given their eyes proper attention. Early care will prevent or correct many faults, and an observant mother can detect quite a number of very significant symptoms. It is suspicious, for example, if a child tends to hold things too close to his eyes; 12 or 15 inches is about the normal distance. Equally suspicious is a tendency of the eyes to cross. Both these errors cry out for examination by a good eye specialist. The eye, on account of its delicate structure, is very susceptible to injury and disease, and any inflammation or infection calls for immediate care.

The failure of parents to consult a specialist at once about a child whose eyes cross has resulted in many cases of partial blindness. Children do not grow out of this, and the utmost they can do by way of compensation for it is to concentrate on one eye and neglect the other. The result is not only the disfigurement of a bad squint, but often the loss of the neglected eye. When an eye crosses, the child sees double, and it naturally learns not to look with the eye that is crossed. Any part of the body that is not used soon becomes useless. The eye, being a very delicate structure, is perhaps quicker to go from disease than anything except the more highly specialized parts of the brain. When one eye turns inward the resulting trouble is nearly always far-sightedness. If the child is treated young enough, and if it is given proper lenses at a sufficiently early age, it may be cured, but if time is wasted the eye loses too much vision to be of any use even if an attempt is made to re-educate it.

Children who are recovering from attacks of measles, scarlet fever, or any other acute infection are especially susceptible to eye trouble. Parents should remember that during convalescence the eyes

Keeping Books
On Housekeeping

By Wanda Barton

HOUSEKEEPING is a profession. It should be treated and managed as such, and is by thinking women. Women living in large cities have so much done for them in public utility ways that the only effort they put forth is to procure the latest telephone book for a handbook. They get on after a fashion but lack the hall mark of real business managers.

On her desk in the kitchen, or elsewhere, you will find the day book and the budget book of the up-to-date business housekeeper. You will find a spike for unpaid bills and another for paid bills, and a file for receipts. You are likely to find a daily order book where the needs have been jotted down as discovered during the day for ordering from the various shops. In the pigeon hole you will find her bank book, check book and balance sheets. It sounds formidable to the uninitiated, but is easy and satisfactory sailing for the woman who has started right. There should be a home-made phone book for our trades-people, with addresses for every sort of shop where we buy. Our favorite moving man, piano tuner, cleaners, handy carpenter, painter who does our odd jobs, the district police station, fire box, hospital number, druggist and newspaper shops we deal with, ice milk and bakery, delicatessen, taxi stand, E. O. station, and any emergency numbers we are likely to need. This utility book is worth everything to the busy woman, for it contains all she is likely to need at first hand in a quickly accessible form.

Her social phone book is also a necessity, as many of the numbers are not in the general public book and so should be carefully listed with the addresses of the people. Many women keep a linen book for convenience—when linens were purchased, prices paid and all data that will aid in knowing what the closet should contain and the wearing qualities of the stock. A laundry book is kept if linen is sent out to public laundries.

are already in a weak state and that too much reading, especially by poor light or any other practice which strains the eyes, may cause permanent damage. The convalescent child should be treated rather like an infant, and should be protected against bright direct lights. It should not be allowed to read facing a window or fire, and the artificial light by which it reads or plays should be steady and soft.

An envelope pasted on the inside of your favorite cook book to hold recipes that have been clipped from newspapers or magazines will enable you to find them when you wish to try them. Then, if found desirable, they may be copied onto a card and put in the kitchen card index and the clipping passed on to some inquiring friend who enjoys the dish.

New Sportswear Has Distinction

NEW YORK. ARTFUL designs, intricacies of cut and novelties in the weave of fabrics result in sportswear of superb distinction. Undenially the cut is the thing, plus skilled fabric working, or tailored details. Although the traditional straight-line type is still a factor in coat styles, the garment cut with a flare is deserving of first place. This fullness usually starts from the shoulder, but occasionally goes to the extremes of having its beginnings from the waistline, in which case it is a sudden flare.

An example of the new meaning of style in relation to sportswear is shown by the coat on the center figure. This is cleverly fashioned of Rodier's striped material, which somewhat resembles zabre. The sleeves are cut in one with the yoke that extends in a lengthy V down the back, and the pocket detail also is extended well into the back for further interest. Back treatments are commanding a great deal of attention, as has been mentioned previously.

The coat that flares from the shoulder is in this three-piece costume in brown and beige colorings, shown at the right. A tuck-in blouse, trouser-pleated skirt of striped fabric, an almost normal waistline, and double coat pocket in semicircle effect are unique points of interest.

Sweaters are in the ascendant

THE FIRST LADY OF MAINE

MRS. RALPH O. BREWSTER didn't campaign for the title, "First Lady of Maine," but she did help her husband win that title for her.

When Brewster decided to visit every city and town in the state in his primary campaign for the gubernatorial nomination in 1924, Mrs. Brewster cast her lot with him as chauffeur on a long and tedious motor tour.

But politics and public life are not the foremost considerations with Mrs. Brewster. The welfare and comfort of her husband, the care of her two sons and the preservation of a home environment are deemed by her to be more important.

THEY, too, called Postum "an invalid's drink." And they didn't need medicine—not they! They were all right—except that they didn't sleep as soundly as they should, and were tired and draggy in the morning, and a bit nervous and headachy at times. They felt just bad enough not to feel good.

Then they found this natural way to better health! For thirty days, they drank Postum with their meals, in place of beverages containing the drug caffeine. They found they missed nothing in enjoyment—that Postum's smooth, full-bodied flavor was a delight in itself. And they found that, with Postum as their regular mealtime drink, sleeplessness and nervousness vanished. Headaches and indigestion disappeared. Needless to say, these Postum "doubters" were convinced. Postum became their mealtime drink forever after!

Convince yourself!

Women Will Help Create
New China

WOMEN will help build a new China from the nation now torn by civil war.

That is the declaration made at Geneva, Switzerland, by Cheng-Loh, Chinese minister to France, who came upon the international political stage in Europe to play a significant part in the solving of numerous problems submitted to the Council of the League of Nations.

Cheng-Loh believes in China with a kind of burning confidence. The 400,000,000 people of his native land, he says, will never be subjugated by a foreign Power, and some day they will discover again their national soul and form themselves into a united, harmonious nation.

"In that new nation," he said, "women will play an important role, even if they will not have all the judicial rights of women of Western lands."

"Witness the fact that we have at Pekin a woman secretary to one of our Ministers, and witness also that Miss Soume Tchong, an eminent woman lawyer, is not only president of the civil court at Shanghai, but also Attorney-General for the handling of criminal cases."

Mrs. Cheng-Loh and her two daughters were present in the council chamber while her husband directed the debate during the troublesome days of the League's December session.

"The Chinese people," the Minister said, "have two great qualities. They are intelligent and they are hard workers. Do not forget that Bolshevism is not to their liking. They tried it once in the ninth century, to their dismay. Communism is against all the Chinese conceptions of religion, including the Confucian religion."

Cheng-Loh, who received his early training in the law at Paris, has written of his experiences in Mongolia, where he represented China in a conference to settle difficulties over the invasion of Mongolia by Russian troops. He also has translated into French from Chinese "The Red Lama," a story of Mongolian life.

In matter of law a "child" means a youngster under the age of fourteen. Between fourteen and sixteen the term "young person" is applied.

GOLF ON THE WAVES.

THE United States Naval Academy has made golf a compulsory part of its curriculum. That's official—according to the Annapolis Press. It used to be, "Join the Navy and go around the world." Now it's going to be "Join the Navy and go around in golf." Annapolis is just another golf club with a waiting list.

There's a reason for this and it isn't hokum. They are not taking our midshipmen off the deep blue sea and planting them on the smooth, clipped green just to give 'em a change of colors. It is to brush up the boys for their social contacts. Anyway, that's what the Navy says. But it looks to us like the Naval Academy's real aim is to high-hat West Point. Everyone knows that the old Army was shooting craps.

After four years' swinging at the gutta percha pill, these midshipmen won't know who's the real hero of the Navy—John Paul Jones or Bobby.

By the time they graduate from Annapolis they will think Old Ironsides was a niblick and the 5-5-3 ratio is par for the first three holes.

After whacking through that golf curriculum, a navy man won't know whether fore means the front part of a ship or the signal that you're going to drive off. Three cheers for our midshipmen.

At that, all American naval heroes were good golfers. Farragut shot at an enemy battleship and went right through her armor plate. He made a hole in one. Dewey stymied the Spanish fleet at Manila Bay.

And Lawrence didn't shout, "Don't give up the ship!" What he said was "American vessels are not lost ships until they have stopped rolling."

Oh, it won't be long before our naval cadets get the swing of the thing. A shell from a 16-inch gun will be an approach shot. A second-class battleship will be a repaint. And submarine duty will be a water hazard.

A navy is only as strong as its fastest golf links. That is why our Admirals-to-be need plenty of shore duty on fairways.

Just glance over these sample messages that will be radioed during the next war:

"Commandant of Brooklyn Navy Yard, Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Terrific 90-mile gale blowing in North Atlantic. We are in the rough."
"ADMIRAL HOKUS."
"Commanding U. S. S. Texas."

THE WAY OF A

A BRIEF FOR PARENTS.

TOO MANY parents are selfish. Believing that children exist only for the parents' benefit! Thus speaks Mrs. Dora Russell, wife of Bertrand Russell.

Thus is unloaded upon the meek and devoted heads of Americans the latest gospel from an overseas lecturer.

We are all so accustomed to hearing, especially from English sources, that we are mercenary, materialistic, hard-minded, woman-dominated, loud-voiced, conceited—

or supply your own derogatory adjective—

"Took 15 turkeys to Washington and sand trap off Nantuxet."
"ADMIRAL DICK."
"Commanding U. S. S. Hokus."

"Secretary of Navy, Washington, D. C."
"We have met the enemy and he has been met six up."
"ADMIRAL SNOOT."
"Commanding Atlantic Squadron."

"Battled enemy ship Hokus for half an hour and sank it in par."
"ADMIRAL GINK."
"Chairman Baltusrol House Committee."

Put into a saucepan a cupful of molasses and a cupful each of butter and sugar. Bring to boiling point and boil one minute.

Move from the fire and cool slightly; then add a cupful of sifted flour and a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Drop by the spoon onto a buttered baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven 10 minutes, and slightly in the pan and lift with a spatula to a dish. They break easily when hot.

It is conscientious, modern American parents.

To be sure, they don't qualify according to one of when the parents' definitions of selfishness—she explains to us that selfishness parents send their children from the age of two years up.

To send to nursery school. And to learn to "develop as individuals," to "acquire a social conscience."

Mrs. Russell knows all about what such schools do for children—You see, she conducts one herself.

Now, comparatively few American parents park their children in the "nursery school" when the youngsters are two years old. Even parents who believe in boarding school.

Seldom send children away to it before they are 15.

And often wait until the children are 14 or 15.

Just what there is of selfishness in ducking the responsibility for one's own babies.

And passing it along to a nursery school.

Is a mystery too deep for most American parents.

However, they have their own little selfish ways.

First of all, just having children means self-denial and sacrifice for most young parents—ask any of them what the stock's carrying charges are, these days.

Even when it's a normal, routine trip.

And "mother and baby are doing well."

Moreover, the high cost of child-rearing has just begun, with their arrival.

It goes steadily higher, from that time on.

Nobody takes any chances in economizing on a baby.

He must have the best (and most expensive) certified milk.

He must have the best (and most expensive) medical supervision.

For diet and teeth and tonics and adenoids and petty childish diseases.

He must have the best (and most expensive) fresh air in the hot summer vacation season.

All this expense of course varies according to Dad's income—

But, in nine cases out of ten, it's safely more than Dad can afford.

THE "CANARY" MURDER CASE

BY S. S. VAN DINE AUTHOR OF THE BENSON MURDER CASE

THE STORY THIS FAR.

Vance believes Skel innocent of the murder of Margaret Odell and that he lay hidden in a closet while the stranger did his work. Markham ridicules the theory but Vance is unshaken. He shatters Cleaver's alibi of being out of the city the night of the murder, and Mannix, under pressure, reveals that he had been calling on a Miss Fishbein, who occupied the apartment adjoining the "Canary's." At five minutes to 12, he says, he saw Cleaver sneaking out of the side door of the building—out of the door which was thought to have been bolted on the inside all night.

CHAPTER XXXV.

MARKHAM sat glowering into space.

"I don't at all like the Cleaver end of this affair," he said. "There's been something damned wrong about him ever since Monday."

"And I say," put in Vance, "doesn't the gentleman's false alibi take on a certain shady significance now, what?"

"You apprehend, I trust, why I restrained you from questioning him about it at the club yesterday. I rather fancied that if you could get Mannix to pour out his heart to you, you'd be in a stronger position to draw a few admissions from Cleaver. And behold! Again the triumph of intuition! With what you now know about him, you can eh-vy him most unconsciously—eh, what?"

"And that's precisely what I'm going to do," Markham rang for Swacker. "Get hold of Charles Cleaver," he ordered. "Irresistibly 'Phone him at the Stuyvesant Club and also his home—he lives round the corner from the club in West Twenty-seventh street. And tell him I want him to be here in half an hour, or I'll send a couple of detectives to bring him in handcuffs."

For five minutes Markham stood before the window, smoking absently, while Vance, with a smile of amusement, busied himself with the Wall Street Journal. Heath got himself a drink of water and took a turn up and down the room. Presently Swacker re-entered.

"Sorry, Chief, but there's nothing doing. Cleaver's gone into the country somewhere. Won't be back till late tonight."

"Hell, sir! All right—that'll do. Markham turned to Heath. "You have Cleaver rounded up tonight, Sergeant, and bring him in here tomorrow morning at nine."

"He'll be here, sir," Heath paused in his pacing and faced Markham. "I've been thinking sir, and there's one thing that keeps coming up in my mind, so to speak. You remember that black document-box that was seen on the living-room table? It was empty; and what a woman generally keeps in that kind of a box is letters and things like that."

"Well, now, here's what's been bothering me; this box wasn't jimmied open—it was unlocked with a key. And, anyway, a professional crook don't take letters and documents. . . . You see what I mean, sir?"

"Sergeant of mine!" exclaimed Vance. "I abase myself before you! I sit at your feet! . . . The document-box—the tidily opened, empty document box! Of course! Skel didn't open it—never in this world! That was the other chap's handiwork."

"What was in your mind about that box, Sergeant?" asked Markham.

"Just this, sir. As Mr. Vance has insisted right along, there might be someone besides Skel in that apartment during the night. And you told me that Cleaver admitted to you he'd paid Odell a lot of money last June to get back his letters. But Skel, who he never paid that money; suppose he went there Monday night and took those letters. Wouldn't he have told you just the other day about buying 'em back? Maybe that's how Mannix happened to see him there."

"That's not unreasonable," Markham acknowledged. "But where does it lead us?"

"Well, sir, if Cleaver did take 'em Monday night, he might have told you. And if he could get hold of those letters, . . ."

"It might prove helpful, of course," said Markham coolly, looking the Sergeant straight in the eye. "But such a thing is quite out of the question."

"Still and all," murmured Heath, "Cleaver's been pulling a lot of raw stuff on you, sir."

(Saturday, Sept. 15, 9 a. m.)

The next morning Markham and Vance and I breakfasted together at the Prince George, and arrived at the District Attorney's office a few minutes past 9. Heath, with Cleaver in tow, was waiting in the reception-room.

To judge by Cleaver's manner as he entered, the Sergeant had been none too considerate of him. He strode belligerently to the District Attorney's desk and fixed a cool, resentful eye on Markham.

"Am I, by any chance, under arrest?" he demanded slyly, but it was the rasping, suppressed softness of his voice that arrested Markham.

"Not yet," said Markham curtly. "But if you were, you'd have only yourself to blame. Sit down."

Cleaver hesitated, and took the nearest chair.

"Why was I routed out of bed at 7:30 by this detective of yours?" he jerked his thumb toward Heath. "—and threatened with patrol wagons and warrants because I objected to such high-handed and illegal methods?"

"You were merely threatened with legal procedure if you refused to accept my invitation voluntarily. This is my short day at the office, and there was some explaining I wanted from you without delay."

"That's eminently satisfactory to me," Markham spoke ominously. "But since you refuse to do your explaining as a free citizen, I have no other course than to alter your present status."

"I'm no pickpocket that you can drag in here when it suits your convenience and put through a third degree."

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

Q. W.—Arthur Duestrow murdered Mrs. Duestrow Feb. 13, 1924. She lived until Feb. 15.

A.—In the last seven-game series between St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Giants the Giants won four out of seven games.

H. F. E.—The public has always been admitted to the Missouri Botanical (Shaw's) Garden without discrimination as to race or color.

J. H. P.—Address of Jimmy Smith, bowler, is not filed here. Ask the supply dealers at 215 N. Sixth street.

MISS U.—It is best to have a pattern laid by the people who sell it, if it is new, as they understand cutting it and allowing for stretching. Walking on it has the effect of stretching it a little. You may give it a coating of liquid wax after it is laid, to make it easy to sweep with a soft brush, or dust with a dry mop. Clean occasionally with a cloth wrung out of lukewarm water and mild soap suds. Rub with a little clear water. Rub soap and hot water will ruin a pattern.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association)

MRS. J. M. B.—The use of the name as described is not against law, though, strictly speaking, "Javis" is his legal name.

B. C.—The children who are born will have to take out administration in the Probate Court before they can give a clear title.

IGNORANT.—The surviving widow, or widower, in the case of a decedent who has a child, is the decedent's estate.

ANXIOUS (Boonville).—You could apply to the Governor for a pardon for the man. A parole is conditional upon his good conduct and other things.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

PARTICULAR.—Answer to your question is yes. Any blood coagulation (clots) when it is outside of blood vessels.

WORRY.—It is not clear what glands you ask about. Write again, including self-addressed stamped envelope and repeating question.

DAILY READER.—Improper diet and constipation are the most usual causes of the condition mentioned. See to it that the baby has a proper quantity of pure water to drink at regular intervals.

MILK.—Such a result as you ask about is not at all likely. Under the circumstances there would be ample ventilation to dispel any harmful gases that might arise from moth balls.

H. K.—A physician should be consulted for diagnosis and treatment in your case, as the condition is rarely due to a local eye trouble. It is practically always associated with nervousness which might be due to different causes.

JACK.—You do not state what you want to know about your case. As you mention treatment of skin, which is not only just to him, but best for yourself, while under his care.

DAD.—Such a case as mentioned is generally below the normal standard of health and may be benefited by taking some such tonic as Ovoterrin, in tablespoonful doses daily, or water three times daily after meals. As your answer includes general care, please send stamped, addressed envelope, referring to "Dad."

N. A. L.—The taking of one or two teaspoonful doses three times daily of the elixir of the bromides of potassium should serve to curb the condition to the proper limits. Also, a hot bath with cold shower following, at bedtime, correcting constipation, taking systematic outdoor exercise, and the leading of an orderly life, abstaining from all stimulants, including tea, coffee and alcoholics, is recommended for you.

DESPAIR.—Writings, such as you enclose, are always grossly exaggerated, and written for the purpose of alarming people into becoming patients or taking the particular "cure all" or nostrums mentioned, so that little or no importance is attached to any claim they may set up. The loss of 48 pounds in five weeks is very unusual. The diet must have been a rigid one or supplemented by taking reducing medicine, which might well explain the feeling of debility you mention. Please send stamped, addressed envelope for full text of your reply, and return of our letter. Refer to "Despair."

BETTER COOKING

By Nancy Dorris

ROAST BREAST OF LAMB (McCarthy's).
Three pounds breast of lamb.
Four strips of bacon.
Salt, pepper.
Half cup hot water.
Tablespoon of flour to every cup of liquid.
Quart of potato cubes.
Can wax beans.
Seasonings.

The wax beans are my own idea. They make of the dish a whole dinner, and the combination of potatoes, lamb and wax beans is not to be forgotten. I know my good friend Mr. McCarthy won't mind my changing his recipe EVER so slightly.

A roaster with a cover is the best requisite. All the moisture and aroma confined within the roaster instead of being dissipated upon the apartment air. Besides the roaster assemble a measuring cup, knife, tablespoon, can opener and clock. Light the oven.

The method is as simple as ABC, or, to quote Marguerite Moore-McCarthy, my neighbor on the magazine page, the recipe is fool proof. Place the piece of breast of lamb in the roasting pan. Mr. McCarthy advises. Lay over it the strips of bacon, season with salt and pepper and pour into the pan the hot water. Adjust the cover and place the roaster in a moderate oven to bake about 45 minutes.

When 30 minutes have passed remove the roaster and arrange around the lamb the potato cubes and the drained wax beans. Cover again and let cook 15 minutes. Then uncover, dust with seasonings. To make the rich brown gravy pour out the liquid and measure. Thicken with a tablespoon of flour for each cup moistened with cold water and cook slightly. You should have two or three cups of gravy, add hot water if necessary. Pour over the contents of the roaster and let cook uncovered 15 minutes or until all is done. Serve very hot.

Brush Well.

Thoroughly brush the wool garment before attempting to clean it. You will be amazed at the dirt and dust that will come out in this manner. Then clean spots and soil.

I.C.C. RAKES LOREE ROAD AS TRUST IN MERGER DEAL

Kansas City Southern Cited to Show Cause Why Combination Should Not Be Dissolved.

FIRST ACTION OF KIND EVER TAKEN

Commission Asserts Merger With M-K-T and Cotton Belt Is in Defiance of Previous Order.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23. — A complaint that the Kansas City Southern Railroad had violated the Clayton anti-trust law by acquiring capital stock of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad and by making agreements looking to control of the St. Louis-Southwestern (Cotton Belt) Railway was made today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The railroad company was ordered to show cause on April 3 why an order to dissolve the combination should not be entered. The complaint drawn up by the commission represented the first action of the kind it ever has taken.

The Kansas City Southern Railway, controlled by L. F. Loree and associates, undertook two years ago to merge with the Missouri-Kansas-Texas and the St. Louis-Southwestern, but was refused Interstate Commerce Commission authority to proceed. Following the commission's decision, Loree prepared a new merger plan—which has not yet been presented.

Charges Defiance of Order.
It was declared in the complaint today that the Kansas City Southern, the St. Louis-Southwestern and the Missouri-Kansas-Texas were all common carriers engaged in direct competition with each other.

"The respondent, the Kansas City Southern, during the years 1924 to 1927, inclusive, acquired a large part of the capital stock of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas company," the complaint continued, "and of the St. Louis-Southwestern Railway Co., without the approval and authorization of the Interstate Commerce Commission. This on or about July 23, 1926, and Nov. 13, 1927, it entered into agreements with the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad under which the latter company is to purchase the capital stock of the St. Louis-Southwestern, and the respondent in the meantime is to retain, and has retained and exercised certain voting rights attaching to said capital stock of the St. Louis-Southwestern."

Scheme Lessens Competition.
"Therefore the respondent, the Kansas City Southern, in violation of section 7 of the Clayton act, now owns and controls, directly or indirectly, a large part of the capital stock of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas and of the St. Louis-Southwestern; that the effect of the acquisition of such capital stock and the use of same may be to substantially lessen competition between the Kansas City Southern, the Missouri-Kansas-Texas, and the St. Louis-Southwestern, or to restrain commerce in certain sections and communities."

"The Kansas City Southern is hereby notified that the charges of this complaint will be heard by the commission in Washington on April 2, at which time and place respondent shall have the right to show cause why an order should not be entered by the Interstate Commerce Commission requiring it to divest itself of all interest, direct or indirect, in the capital stock of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas and of the St. Louis-Southwestern now unlawfully held."

The new building, the first plans of which called for a height of 752 feet, will be 800 feet high. William Van Allen is the architect. An originally planned cost was to have been $15,000,000.
